WOMEN TOO NUMEROUS TO VOTE IN ENGLAND.

London Times Editor Explains Why They Are Denied the Ballot.

"If We Enfranchised Them They Would Soon Be Lording It Over the Men," Is the Gist of the Remarkable Confession Made by Northcliffe in Chicago in Analyzing the Crimes of the Skirted Anarchists.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Lord Northcliffe, England's greatest newspaper publisher, whose numerous publications are on the pulse of the British Isles, explained today why, in his opinion, the women of his country will lose their right for equal suffrage.

"There are proportionately 1,700,000 more women of voting age than men in England, Scotland and Ireland," said Mr. Northcliffe.

"If they were given the same franchise rights as the men they would dominate the empire. No self-respecting man is going to be dominated by women. The man of England will not tolerate rule by women."

"Ninety-nine out of 100 men in England, I will venture to say, are opposed to women suffrage for this reason. Both political parties stand together in opposition to it."

"The late Mr. Lloyd George of New York said the situation about as well as any man when he said, 'There are not enough husbands in England to go around.' If these women had homes and husbands they would not be worrying about the vote."

Lord Northcliffe drew attention to the fact that English men scatter throughout the colonies while the women remain at home, thus creating the great disparity in numbers.

"Personally," he continued, "I am not against giving the vote on a property basis, but this the suffragettes will not be satisfied with. As a matter of fact, women may vote in England today for almost anything except members of Parliament and they don't use these votes. No one has ever been able to explain why they don't.

"It also is a matter of common knowledge that the women of Ireland apparently care nothing for the vote. They have not participated in the suffrage campaign. The women of Scotland contribute about as many to the suffrage ranks as the women of England."

"There is another matter which the English government must consider in solving the suffrage question. The women of India, for instance, are not treated as equals of the men. Serious complications would arise if Parliament should vote the franchise to the women of the empire."

"It is also known that the women of New Zealand, who have had suffrage for years, do not exercise their rights."

"The cables," he stated, "seem to carry only the sensational suffragette news to this country. The picturesque writers apparently have given wrong impressions of the real situation. It is ridiculous to charge all our fires to suffrage movement. We have many fires—not as many as you have in the United States, but a great many—and only a small percentage of these may be traced to the suffragettes."

ON AMERICAN WOMEN.
After giving his version of the suffrage troubles in his own country, the English editor turned interviewer and inquired as to the real attitude of American women toward the ballot.

The reporter was inclined to be boastful of the peaceful manner in

IMPORTERS ON QUI VIVE.

Millions in Goods Stored to Take Advantage of the Tariff Act.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—A practical demonstration of one section of the new tariff law will be given almost as soon as it is signed by President Wilson.

Huge quantities of foreign-made merchandise, already imported, will be thrown on the market at large centers throughout the country. For the last two months importers have been storing goods in bonded warehouses, to be held there until they may be admitted under the lower rates to be provided in the new law. Figures compiled by the Journal of Commerce show that goods in bond in New York alone on August 31 were valued at $1,501,000 and since that time the total has increased largely. While it was said that in some cases decided changes would be made in wholesale prices, no estimates were obtainable as to the probable effect on retail prices.

ENTOMBED FOR FOUR DAYS, HE IS IN GOOD HEALTH.

Man Buried in Mammoth Vein of Lehigh Coal Company Is Fed on Milk and Eggs and Says He Can Hold Out Unless Another Fall of Rock Occurs.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CENTRALIA (Pa.), Sept. 30.—A darkness enveloped the Continental colliery of the Lehigh Coal Company tonight the voice of Thomas Tosehsky, who has been entombed in the mammoth vein since last Friday morning, was heard through a tube fifty feet long which had been inserted in a hole bored through a wall of coal.

"I feel all right," he said, "as I am in fairly good condition. I had several bottles of milk and whipped eggs. I feel much stronger and more content. I had a long sleep after satisfying my hunger and thirst. I feel certain that I will be rescued before another fall of top rock and coal will occur."

Miner officials with the rescue told Tosehsky to keep up courage as it probably would be another twelve hours until a big pile of coal lying in the face the gateway could be removed.

ENJOYS PRISON DIET.

Self-Convicted Inmate Takes to Jail Regime Like Old-timer While Investigating Conditions.

AUBURN (N.Y.), Sept. 30.—Thomas Mott Osborne, chairman of the State Commission for Prison Reform, completed his first day in Auburn prison today as a self-said inmate for the purpose of studying prison conditions. The report of the prison physician satisfied that he stood the prison diet satisfactorily.

With the broom and basket factory gang he was marched from his cell at 8:30 and was given a meal of cell bread, wash and eat a breakfast of rolled oats, bread and coffee. Mr. Osborne at home usually has a breakfast of cereal, bacon, eggs and coffee.

After breakfast he proved an apt pupil at basket weaving. Many of the prisoners were given a break in the prison work and the letters, telegrams and other communications addressed to Mr. Osborne at the prison were sent to his office as he is not permitted to receive communications.

CARRIED CARD OF ANGELENOS.

Unknown Man Found Dying in Milwaukee Believed to Have Friends Here.

[BY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MILWAUKEE (Wis.), Sept. 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Found lying face downward, unconscious, in a pool of blood on the street, an unknown man about 25 years of age died at Emergency Hospital from a fractured skull. Although the police have not yet established the cause of his injury, it is believed that it resulted from a runaway horse which was heard half an hour before the man was found. It is thought possible that an auto may have struck him and left him insensible in the street. Five detectives started to trail the runaway in the hope of finding some way to identify the man. When he was brought into the Emergency Hospital, he was partly unconscious, and when asked his name he uttered a sound that seemed to sound like "Ferdinand."

The only clew to his identity is a card with the name "Sarah F. Goldman," and "Rose F. Marks," Los Angeles, Cal.

GOLD FOUND IN CITY PARK.

Rich Deposits of Free Milling Ore Showing Very High Values Are Discovered.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.), Sept. 30.—Returns from a local assay office today of samples of ore taken from a ledge uncovered in the Mount Tabor Park by a park employee two weeks ago, reveal values in free milling gold of $1,000 to $2,000 a ton.

Commissioner Brewster of the Department of Public Affairs, who has charge of the park, directed City Attorney Laroche to proceed immediately to protect the rights of the city in the park so that prospectors and speculators may be excluded.

ELLIOTT URGES ADVANCE IN RAILROAD TARIFFS.

BOSTON, Sept. 30.—A short route to restoration of public confidence in the railroads of the country would be furnished by a positive declaration by Federal and State commissions that rates may be advanced, in the opinion of Howard Elliott, new president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad. Mr. Elliott made this statement tonight in an address before the Boston Chamber of Commerce.

"The policy of the government—national and State—in the last twenty-five years," he said, "seems to have been to decide rate questions in the great majority of cases in such a way that rates rarely were advanced and generally were reduced, and to introduce rules, regulations and methods that increased expenses. If the rates continue to decline, or even remain on the present level, and if expenses are increased by higher wages and costs of materials and by the introduction of different appliances and facilities far more rapidly than the roads can obtain money, then there is but one result for some of the railroads of the United States—bankruptcy. I believe the commissioners—who have such great powers—realize their responsibility to the owners of the properties as well as to the users, and I hope earnestly that they will give practical evidence of their realization by permitting some advances in rates."

"Should the commissions, Federal and State, make a positive declaration that rates may be advanced so as to permit the properties to meet all of their obligations, pay a fair return to stockholders and leave a balance for improvements, they will do much for the entire country. Such a declaration would inspire confidence and give to existing securities a better standing than they now have, both here and in Europe; and help to market new securities upon an interest basis more favorable than now is possible, because of the uneasiness in the minds of investors about the future net earnings of the railroads."

Other important matters agreed upon, and which are of particular importance to the commercial interests, are the following:

The anti-dumping provision in the House bill was eliminated.

The retaliatory clause adopted by the Senate in order to strengthen the government's hand in securing equitable treatment for American goods abroad was stricken out.

Burials will go on the free list.

June bags will be taxed 10 per cent.

Plain lute fabrics, dried, stained or colored, 10 per cent.

The Senate tax of $1.10 per gallon on wine spirits used in the production of spirit wine was struck out.

The difficulties of the conferees will be appreciated when it is known that in the case of the cotton schedule it has been revised six different times.

FACTS ABOUT NEW TARIFF BILL.

Senate probably will pass measure by Saturday. President will affix his signature as soon as the Senate indorses the bill.

Goods in warehouses may be released when bill is signed.

Chief object sought: Lower living cost and freedom of industry.

Total estimated treasury revenue:

Fiscal year $1,935,000,000

Estimated surplus 13,000,000

Estimated annual revenue from income tax 2,000,000

The bill imposes an average ad valorem rate of from 37 to 39 per cent. The average for the present Aldrich law is 40 per cent. The average for the Wilson-Gorman act was 35 per cent.

Senator Simmons, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, gives the following estimate:

For the year ending July 1, 1914—

Receipts $1,935,000,000

Expenditures 1,933,000,000

Surplus 16,000,000

For the year ending July 1, 1915—

Receipts $1,935,000,000

Expenditures 1,908,000,000

Surplus 18,000,000

The estimated receipts under the customs tariff, the income tax, and the corporation tax, embraced in the new tariff, are given as follows:

For 1914—

Customs revenues $270,000,000

Income tax (ten months) 44,000,000

Corporation tax 28,000,000

For 1915—

Customs revenues $249,000,000

Income tax 45,000,000

Corporation tax 28,000,000

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The House of Representatives today gave its formal approval to the conferees' report on the tariff bill. The vote announced was 254 for and 103 against.

The result was another triumph for Democratic unity. Although the weaknesses in the Democratic measure were exposed and attention was called to the fact that the conferees had revised rates which were not in dispute between the two houses, it made no difference with the machine controlled by Speaker Clark and Majority Leader Underwood. It was well timed and ready and able to fasten opposition and it demonstrated its power when the engineers pulled open the throttle.

It only remains for the Senate to act, and that body will dispose of the bill by the end of the week. Saturday night possibly will witness the presentation of the measure to the President. For his signature and his approval without delay.

WHAT THE VOTE SHOWS.

The vote today is chiefly interesting in that it shows the effective character of the organization of the Democrats, the practical solidarity of the Republicans in the Senate and the division of the Progressives.

Four Democrats voted against the bill—Representative Donohoe of Pennsylvania and Representatives Broussard, Lazaro and Morgan of Louisiana. The conferees' bill, which would be a little over 25 per cent. a rate almost as low as that of the famous Walker bill, which imposed low taxes on liquor and tobacco. The tax on these products greatly raised the average of the bill just passed. The average rate of the Wilson bill was 35.45 per cent., while that of the Aldrich bill is 40.12 per cent.

Mr. Underwood scouted the idea that there would be a deficit, pointing out that $12,000,000 would be raised from the income tax, $29,000,000 from the corporation tax, and $249,000,000 from customs.

Taking into consideration other sources of revenue, the majority leader estimated that in 1914 the treasury would receive $1,025,000,000. The expenditure would be $1,008,000,000, which is the amount it is expected that the government will require, there will be a surplus of $17,000,000 in the treasury.

Representative Payne, the House author of the Aldrich law, and the tariff leader of the Republicans, predicted there would be a deficit of $20,000,000 as a result of the first year's operation of the Simmons-Underwood law and $30,000,000 the following year.

It is impossible to state what the new law will produce in the way of revenue. Much depends, of course, on the condition of the country. If prosperity should continue, then the chances are there will be no deficit. But if manufacturers, scared by the possible effects of the law, should close down, then a situation will arise which will reduce the treasury receipts.

GOODS IN WAREHOUSES TO PAY THE NEW DUTIES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Goods now in bonded warehouses will pay the duties imposed by the new tariff law which will be in operation within a week.

This is the statement of conferees on the tariff bill and officials of the Treasury Department. In order to save demurrage and other charges to Chicago and other importers the Treasury Department is authorizing bonded warehouses in which the goods imported will be kept until the conferees shall finish their labors and the President shall sign the act.

The Treasury Department today gave relief to importers by authorizing two new bonded warehouses in Chicago, one of which is an extension of the Sibley warehouse. It is stated that since the revision of the tariff was begun the department has been authorizing additional warehouses throughout the country on an average of five a day. The usual number is one a day. This indicates that a tremendous quantity of goods has been imported and held in bond in order to avoid the payment of the high duties imposed by the present law and to take advantage of the lower rates of the Simmons-Underwood statute.

The plan of the Democratic leaders to rush through the conference report on the tariff bill this morning in order that President Wilson might sign it before sundown Saturday has been upset. Recent indications are that the legislative branch on the proposed tariff will be projected into next week.

But if manufacturers, scared by the possible effects of the law, should close down, then a situation will arise which will reduce the treasury receipts.

At the end of a short but bitter fight.

ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.) Sept. 30.—Edwin Farnham Greene, president of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers, addressing the convention which assembled here today, said tariff changes alone were not responsible for the present curtailment of business and expressed the hope that if the new tariff bill passed, the burden upon the cotton interests, reasonable changes in it may be made by the government. President Greene said:

"It is perhaps hardly fair to say that all of the business hesitation in the past few months has been due to the prospect of a change in the tariff. The tariff has been a factor, but it is not the only one. The war, the war and prospective war abroad, and the war at home, and the proposed monetary legislation in this country have contributed much to the curtailment of business in the way of restricted credit and general caution. However, it is fair to assume that in the textile business, where a very radical cut is to be made in duties on imports, the hesitation is due largely to such changes. 'Frankly, the best informed manufacturers do not feel that they know just what the effect will be. Naturally, they look with alarm on any such radical change as is being made, but possibly the high efficiency of our mills and the comparative proximity of the markets may enable us to compete successfully with the foreigner, but, in any event, it is certain that competition from abroad will be much keener and a very serious factor with which to reckon.'

"If in spite of this competition we are able to operate successfully, and by that I mean continue to pay a fair wage and earn a reasonable return on the capital invested and do so over a period of years, we should be pleased. What I fear most is that the worst will not come at once. The mills of Europe are as a whole fairly well equipped, particularly in England, cotton goods, and it may be true that the American mills can continue to do business, but the profit in the sale of increased importations, when the business is depressed abroad, the value of the tariff will fall to give the same protection as with high prices at the very time when the American mills need protection most. 'However, an optimistic people and we should enter on the new era as cheerfully as can be, having full confidence that in spite of our best efforts, the tariff will prove an undue burden, the government in Washington will see its mistake and make reasonable changes.'

"It is sufficient to say that one of the most serious handicaps with which American mills is the first cost of cotton or worsted mill, as it is nearly twice what it was a year ago. This necessitates twice as much capital, doubles the cost of repairs, insurance, depreciation and so on, and almost entirely to the high wages paid in this country, particularly to skilled laborers, such as carpenters, masons and mechanics. As can be clearly seen, it is not only a question of actual wages paid in the mills, but also the high wages, maintained by every American laborer, which enter into our problem.

"The overhead expense of American mills is necessarily high. It is due in part to the fact that this is a large country, and that mills are located at some distance from the market where the goods are sold, or in which the raw material is bought.

"The higher cost of living in this country, as compared with that of other countries, and the fact that the cost of living is very moderate, is another factor. It had occasioned me long ago to compare the expense of the executive office, or treasurer's office, of several New England mills, including the salaries of the officers, and I found that such expenses averaged about one-half of 1 per cent. of the net sales. Moreover, those of us who are familiar with the numerous interpretations of the tariff, which will pass into history before the close of the week. An effort was made to expedite the passage of the Underwood-Simmons measure.

"Any observant outsider can in a casual visit to our mills see ways of economizing, as they talk, but it is not of us who have been in the business for so long that there are complex conditions to be considered. I see no reason why the efficiency engineer has not just as much of a place in the industrial world as a lawyer or a mechanical engineer. We cannot allow either one to run our business.

"Much as we may feel discouraged, at the present moment, we have passed through hard times before, and possibly the effect may not be as disastrous as some believe. In any event, we are going with courage, believing in the energy, ability and efficiency of the American manufacturer and laborer and in the wisdom of the American people in the long run.

The Joy Of Coming Motherhood

A Wonderful Remedy That is a Natural Aid and Relieves the Tension.

Mother's Friend is the only remedy known that is able to reach all the different parts involved. It is a penetrating external application after the formula of a noted family doctor, and lubricates every muscle, nerve, tissue or tendon involved. By its daily use there will be no pain, no distress, no nausea, no danger of laceration or other accident, and the period will be one of supreme comfort and joyful anticipation. Mother's Friend is one of the greatest of all helpful influences, for it robs childbirth of all its agonies and dangers, dispels all the doubt and dread, all sense of fear, and thus enables the mind and body to await the greatest event in a woman's life with untroubled gladness. You will find it on sale at all drug stores at $1.00 a bottle, or the druggist will gladly get it for you. orem in the Republican measure. We have reduced this burden 45 per cent. Cornets were taxed 59 per cent. We have made it 25 per cent.

We have reduced nearly 25 per cent. Upon the theory that the fine lines were luxuries, we have made no reduction. We have given the farmer all of his farming implements free of duty. This ought to enable him to purchase American made farm implements as cheaply at home as the same articles are sold abroad. We have reduced the taxes on his wire, and other fencing materials until they are merely nominal. We have given him his bagging free, and when our tariff bill has brought about the competition it will bring about and has brought reductions, as it will, in the expensive system of distribution at present prevailing in this country. He ought to be able to buy cheaply nearly everything he is compelled to buy for use on his farm and in his home.

One of the last things the outgoing Secretary of Agriculture called to the attention of the country was the fact that everything the farmer sells for 50 cents costs the consumer $1. Although there is no conversion cost included in this enormous increase. In other words, transportation charges and commissions increase 100 per cent. the cost to the consumer of farm products. When the economies in transportation and conversion made necessary by this bill come in to effect it is not too much to expect that the farmer will receive more for his product and the ultimate consumer will pay less for them.

The business of the country has adjusted itself to the bill without a perceptible tremor. No factories are closing, no banks are failing. Our exportations never were so large and they are constantly increasing. Our exportations of goods ready for further manufacture are less than they have been for many years and are constantly diminishing. This indicates that our factories are reaching out and are holding in this country the goods ready for further manufacture, which we usually export. There are no clouds on the horizon. Without slightest disturbance to the business of the country we have revised the tariff downward and have swept out of existence the old war tariff.

With the passage of this bill commences a new epoch in the economic history of this country. In addition to this we are proceeding with the revision of our currency system. If we accomplish that also the Democratic party will have the record of doing something no other party in the history of the country has ever attempted to do—revise the currency system, reduce it to a sane basis and at the same time revise the tariff. The cuts we have made in the tariff are drastic and the currency revision we propose is not merely nominal. At the same time we have started out in a new direction by taxing incomes. An attempt to do any one of these things under Republican administration within the last sixteen years would have produced a panic. I submit that the Democratic party has established that it is a coherent, constructive party, entitled to the confidence of the country.

PRINCESS WILL RECOVER. Wife of Former King of Portugal Suffering From Fever Lies in a Munich Hospital. (BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.) MUNICH, (Bavaria), Sept. 30.—An official bulletin today says that Princess Augustina Victoria, wife of former King Manuel of Portugal, is expected to recover "within a reasonable time." Manuel has taken up his residence at the hospital where his wife is under treatment. The official bulletin says: "Princess Augustina Victoria fell ill on September 18 and is suffering from fever and gastric symptoms." It says that she went to the hospital September 23, "on the advice of her physicians."

WILL INSPECT BRAZIL ORANGES.

THREE EXPERTS TO TRAVEL TO SOUTH AMERICA.

Department of Agriculture Sends Men to View the Citrus Fruit Plantations in Original Home of the Washington Navel, and Anything Valuable Will Be Annexed.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The most valuable orange in the world, the Washington Navel, came originally from Brazil, and the Department of Agriculture in following out a policy it has adopted with other things, is looking to the country of its origin for other varieties which may prove valuable acquisitions to the horticultural resources of the country. It has sought potatoes in Peru, alfalfa in China and Siberia, and other things in the most remote parts of the world. Recently it came to the department to make further investigations in Brazil, and now it is expected that three tried experts in the service of the government who have all done notable work in the Department of Agriculture will sail from New York for Brazil next Thursday. They are A. D. Shamel, P. H. Dorsett and L. G. Popanco. They are going as explorers for the department, and will make a round of the Brazilian citrus fruit plantations, besides picking up anything else valuable in the way of agricultural material.

It is believed from such investigations of Brazilian oranges as have been made before that there are some valuable types there well worth introducing into the United States. The explorers expect to sail on the same steamer with Col. Roosevelt and party.

ARE THERE SNOBS IN NAVY?

Secretary Daniels Will Make Investigation Into Charges of Former Assistant Paymaster.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Is there snobishness in the navy? Secretary Daniels would like to know if there is. He began this morning an investigation into the charges of "snobishness" in the navy made by former Assistant Paymaster Arthur T. Middleton, in a published interview. The Secretary wrote this morning to Mr. Middleton asking him to call at the Navy Department and put his statement in more specific form. "A wholesale indictment like this statement, drawn up by Mr. Middleton," said the Secretary, "is out of place, for while there may be some of those officers in the navy, as in other walks of life, I do not believe it dominates the service, but if it goes on anywhere in the navy to the extent stated by Mr. Middleton, it is a disgrace, and should be stopped."

"I shall ask him for specific instances of it and make an investigation." According to the statements accredited to Mr. Middleton, the life of the "snobs" in the navy is a hard one, and that even his wife is subjected to harsh rebuffs at the hands of those officers who graduated from the Naval Academy. Secretary Daniels called attention to the fact that Mr. Middleton's statement is a "wholesale indictment" of the navy, and that the Secretary has abandoned as a determining factor in the examinations.

For Sallow, Blotchy, Rough or Greasy Skin

(From Women's Tribune.) Some skins require constant grooming to keep them from becoming oily, mummy, blotchy or rough, or if such condition has developed, to overcome it. In such chronic cases it is particularly inadvisable to keep piling on cosmetics which clog the pores, collect dust and dirt, making the complexion worse than ever. It's a lot more sensible to use ordinary mercolized wax, which literally absorbs a bad complexion. Apply the wax, like cold cream, before retiring; next morning, in washing it off, you'll wash away fine, flour-like particles of the unsightly cuticle. Repeat for a week or more and you'll have an entirely new skin—soft, satiny, spotless and beautiful as a child's. One ounce of mercolized wax, procurable at any drugist's, is all you'll need. If the skin is wrinkled or flabby, here's the best possible remedy: Mix 1/2 pint witch hazel and 1 ounce powdered azoxilite and use as a face bath. It works like a miracle, yet is entirely harmless.—[Advertisement.]

Women Too Numerous.

which the Illinois women had induced the Legislature to grant them limited suffrage. This did not satisfy Lord Northcliffe, although he approved of their plan of campaign. "But didn't they have a right to vote for anything before?" he demanded. "Yes, for trustees of schools and of the University of Illinois," he was informed. "How many went to the polls?" "Less than a thousand," he replied. "I told you so," he smiled. "But after all, the women have not had a chance to rest the new system. I am informed, however, that in those States where they have had the ballot for a long time, the greater number of the women are indifferent. Even if all the women vote in this country, they could not override the men, as they could in England. That is our problem."

"JACK" JOHNSON. In a course of a general conversation that followed, the reception given "Jack" Johnson in London, was mentioned. Lord Northcliffe was quick to pick up the subject. "The 'Jack' Johnson case was not viewed in England from the color standpoint," he said. "That is a dangerous subject over there, and besides, as you know, we have few negroes. Johnson was considered merely a fugitive and England did not want to insult America by entertaining or receiving him."

The London Daily Mail, one of Lord Northcliffe's papers, printed a 500-word cable dispatch from Chicago, reviewing the record of Johnson's trial here after he had complained to a London audience that his only offense was that he had whipped Jodrey for the championship. This report is said to have quickly stopped the Johnson craze there. The negro soon afterwards returned to France. Lord Northcliffe predicted he would not last there either as a drawing card. He asked for details of the Johnson case and showed his resentment of the remark credited to the negro that he could have any white woman he wanted.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP. Municipal ownership was another theme discussed by his lordship. "The success of municipal ownership," he said, "depends on the men at the head of the city government. They must be able and must be paid as much as in business concerns. Lots of towns in England are added with ownership of utilities and are sick of it."

Chicago's streets and newspapers have made the greatest impression on Lord Northcliffe. He also has been amused by the fog of the last two days, which so closely resembles the London variety. "Your streets compare favorably with those of European cities, which is saying a great deal," he said. "I have been over miles of them. While here and there I have noticed poor thoroughfares, as a whole I don't think I ever saw any better. As for your newspapers, they are favorably known the world over."

Lord Northcliffe was glancing at a freshly printed afternoon paper as he spoke. "Ugh, I don't like this gasoline ink, though," he said. "It smells badly. I won't use that in London, that you can bet on."

His third day in Chicago proved a busy one. He visited the Board of Trade, where he said he heard "a lot of men make a lot of noise," dined with the friends at the University Club, and with Lady Northcliffe, spent an hour as the guest of Judge Uhlir in the court of domestic relations. He will leave tonight for New York with his party and will sail for England on the steamship Adriatic on October 9.

AMAZONS SHOULD ARM.

Women in Albania Equipped with Hatchets Fight Alongside Their Men Folk.

(BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.) VIENNA, Sept. 30.—Women are taking an active part in the fighting in Albania, according to dispatches received here from Avlona, the Albanian capital. Many Albanian women, armed with hatchets, fought shoulder to shoulder with their husbands, sons and brothers during the street fighting at Dibra on September 22, when 1200 Servians were killed and 300 taken prisoners. The women of the Greek race in Southern Albania are also displaying a very warlike spirit. At Koritza, which is held by the Greeks, sixty girls have formed themselves into a company which is drilled by Greek non-commissioned officers.

WILSON GREETED COMMISSION.

Confers With Representatives of Panama Exposition on Their Way to South America.

(BY A. P. WIRE TO THE TIMES.) WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—President Wilson today greeted the United States Commissioners to South America, Central America and the West Indies, who are to sail from New York tomorrow on a tour in the interest of the Panama Pacific Exposition to South America. They were Felix Martinez, Commissioner-General to South America; Daniel O. O'Connell Lively, Commissioner-General to Central America and the West Indies; and Arthur H. Fernbach, Commissioner-General to the West Indies. They were presented to the President by Secretary Bryan.

LOAN CARRIED BY MRS. SULZER.

Governor Used Wife's Name in His Stock Deals.

Employed Campaign Funds in Some Transactions.

Had Sixteen Thousand for Margins When Needed.

(BY A. P. WIRE TO THE TIMES.) ALBANY (N. Y.), Sept. 30.—Evidence that Gov. Sulzer's stock transactions with the New York brokerage firm of Harris & Fuller were for the account of Mrs. Sulzer, was disclosed today at the trial of his impeachment. The articles of impeachment charge that the Governor made use of some of his unreported campaign contributions in the transaction.

Melville B. Fuller, head of the firm, said that the Governor had told him that Mrs. Sulzer had a loan with the now defunct Carnegie Trust Company of New York and that in order to take up the loan, for which he had given his note, he had deposited securities belonging to Mrs. Sulzer with Harris & Fuller and borrowed money thereupon to pay the note.

The Governor's account with Harris & Fuller, which the impeachment managers charge was a margin or speculative account, not a loan account, was opened in 1910, according to the books of the firm, which Fuller presented. It was recalled today, was in financial difficulties that year and subsequently it failed.

SERIES OF BORROWING. The account not only showed a long series of borrowing on securities brought to the firm by Sulzer, but also the purchase and sale of securities, calls for "margin" and the deposit by Sulzer of cash payments of stock in response to these calls.

Sixteen thousand in the cash, which the impeachment managers assert formed part of the Governor's campaign contributions, were used in meeting these calls for "margin" according to the books. "Finally in July, 1911, about $100,000 of the Governor's stock, came to the rescue by paying off a debit balance against the account of $14,719 and taking up the securities. At this time the Governor had put into the account, according to the books, $175,000 in stock or cash and his net loss, excluding the amount paid in by Josephine, was $8,414."

Fuller denied today that to his knowledge Mrs. Sulzer ever had anything to do with the account and said he never had seen the note authorizing the closing of the account presented by Josephine until it had been returned to him when he was called before the impeachment managers in New York City. The note had been delivered to his partner, he explained.

DEBIT BALANCE A LOAN.

In controversy to the characterization of the account as a loan, counsel for the Governor's accusers, from Fuller's statement that on December 19, 1911, two days before the Governor was inaugurated, the debit balance on the account had been cleared as a loan by the firm to Gov. Sulzer. This balance was approximately $40,000. Fuller submitted that it was a book-keeping transaction purely described as a "cross entry" which prevented the firm's routine transactions, the bank or exchange.

"How did you come to do it?" he was asked. "Probably," he replied, "because my partner thought it was not wise to have securities going around the street in William Sulzer's name." The "cross entry" which Fuller said was made by his cashbook showed upon its face, Attorney Kresel said, that it was not made on the date upon which it purported to be. It also was brought out that in June, 1913, after former Gov. A. E. Spriggs of Montana, an old-time friend of Mr. Sulzer, had contributed a check for $50,000 to the account, there was another "cross entry" transaction by which it appeared that the firm loaned the Governor $13,046.

CHARGE OF MANIPULATION.

With Fuller on the stand counsel for the assembly managers also began to lay the foundation for proof of the charges in the eighth article of impeachment that the Governor used his official position to affect the current prices of securities listed on the New York Stock Exchange, "in which he was speculating." The article charges that he first urged the passage of certain legislation, and then withdrew or attempted to withdraw it.

A complete record of all the "stock exchange reform bills" introduced at the regular session of the Legislature at the recommendation of Governor Sulzer was then placed in evidence.

The managers' counsel announced that they would inquire closely into the public statement made by the Governor March 10, in announcing that he had "withdrawn the stock transaction" from the State, and that "It has aroused considerable opposition from 'sagacious' business people throughout the State, and I think much of this opposition is well founded and that the bill goes too far in placing too great a burden of taxation on a single industry."

Attorney Stanchfield made an unsuccessful attempt to introduce testimony regarding the installation of Louis A. Sarecky into the immigration service after his resignation as campaign secretary to the Governor. Judge Cullen held that the testimony was not competent at this time, but might be introduced later.

This was preliminary to an attempt to prove that the Governor induced Sarecky to refuse to testify before the Frawley Committee. It will be asserted that Sarecky assumed the office because he had been given the position.

CURRENCY BILL TO BE HASTENED

New York Financial Expert Talks to Committee.

Wilson to Stay at Capital Until Act Is Passed.

Will Delay Inspection Trip to the Panama Canal.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—The Senate Banking and Currency Committee occupied today with a technical discussion of the administration of the currency bill, while the White House began to consider means of hastening the progress of the measure toward the statute books.

For seven hours the committee heard discussion of the bill by Charles A. Conant, financial expert of New York, whose testimony will be continued tomorrow.

Conferences at the White House and Capitol among the administration forces took up the problem of hurrying consideration of the measure in the committee where a majority of members appear to be willing to listen to all the testimony available. Senators Owen and Shafroth, champions of the bill, talked with President Wilson and then conferred with the Democratic members of the committee who have a decided aversion to certain provisions of the bill. Later it became known that an attempt would be made to secure an agreement in the committee to set a date for closing the hearings.

HOLD PRIVATE CONFERENCE.

Several Democratic members of the committee held a private conference tonight to talk over the situation.

None of the Democratic members of the committee would venture a prophecy as to the course of the bill, but Senator Bristow of Kansas, declared that he believed there was little chance of currency legislation at this session of Congress.

Mr. Conant indorsed the theory and general principles of the bill. He said that the plan of issuing money on rigid security such as bonds, was not a means of providing an elastic currency. He favored the scheme in the bill of issuing currency on short time commercial paper.

WILSON TO REMAIN.

President Wilson, it became known today, has determined to remain in Washington as long as the currency bill is under consideration and has abandoned the idea of going to the coast. Neither will the President plan for any extended vacation at the summer capital at Cornish, N. H.

President Wilson began the day by plunging into the currency question with Senators Owen and Shafroth and Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo. It was said that progress had been reported at the conference and work of framing the bill was progressing satisfactorily. The President, it is said, desired to be clear at hand at all times to do anything that he could to effect the currency legislation under way before differences of opinion became too acute.

AS FAR AS THE PANAMA TOLL QUESTION IS CONCERNED, the President does not contemplate any early message to Congress and certainly will not take up the question seriously until he has visited the canal zone at least once.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION. Steps Proposed Increase in Rates from California Points.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Interstate Commerce Commission has suspended until January 25 certain items, which were to become effective October 10 and September 28, relating to proposed advances in rates applicable to the transportation of lumber from California to San Francisco and other points in California to points in Texas and New Mexico, and the proposed advance in rates from Rock Island and El Paso Railway and other lines, the present rates being 25 cents per car.

GOING, GONE!

Company, which corporation held 51 per cent of the stock of the Borax Consolidated of London, the holding company, in which Smith personally held 25 per cent of the stock. The holding 24 per cent of the stock of the holding company is owned by Baker and his associates, so this purchase consolidates the entire control of the borax supply of the world in the hands of the English syndicate.

PRICE PAID NOT KNOWN.

The price which will be paid Smith has not been made public, although it is estimated as not far from $1,000,000. When it is considered that Smith had derived an income of $400,000 from these holdings, which would indicate a value of $8,000,000 if capitalized at 8 per cent, it may be appreciated that the bargain which Baker secured was a hard one for Smith.

The local company was capitalized at $2,000,000, but had been paying very large dividends. Owing to the fact that much of Smith's stock was hypothecated, the entire amount of the purchase price will not be paid for the payment of his other debts.

With the execution of this option on the borax stock, and if Hanford meets with success in selling his option on the Smith holding in the United Properties Company, Smith's affairs will have been brought near a conclusion.

His holdings in the realty syndicate have not been sought particularly for purchase, as the obligations of this company are great, but with the sale of his borax and United Properties stock Smith would be in a position to continue with the realty syndicate.

Everything or nothing? was the demand of Baker, and it was on this demand that the negotiations came near splitting. Smith's pride was touched. It was the borax mines in Death Valley that had been the foundation of his fortune. For years he had paid him $400,000 annually. The title of "Borax King" flattered his vanity and he was loath to part with it all, even in the face of the insistence of his trustees that every dollar was needed to pay the debts incurred in his less fortunate ventures.

But the counsel of the trustees finally prevailed and the option was signed. It was a hard bargain which the Englishman drove with the debilitated miner.

Smith owned 25 per cent of the stock of the Pacific Coast Borax to most of these points is 40 cents, and the proposed rate is 50 cents per 100 pounds. Advanced rates between points on the lines of the Southern Pacific Railway in the same general territory which were to become effective March 15 last, were suspended by an order previously entered in the same docket. The commission also suspended from September 30 until January 25 the operation of certain items published in tariffs for gasoline engines and windmills. Under present tariff provisions gasoline engines and parts may be included with shipments of windmills and windmill parts and forwarded in mixed carloads at a commodity rate of $1.50 per 100 pounds from Chicago to San Francisco and other California terminals. The suspended items propose to continue in effect the rate above stated upon shipments of windmills and windmill parts in carloads, but do not permit gasoline engines to be forwarded in the same car at that rate. The carload rate in the latter from Chicago is $1.40 per 100 pounds and the less carload rate is $1.40 per 100 pounds. Shipments from other points would be effected in a like manner.

WILL VISIT LOS ANGELES.

Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt to Come Here About November Twentieth.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Congressman Stephens learned today that Assistant Secretary of the Navy Franklin Roosevelt has accepted the invitation to be the guest of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce on his visit to that city.

He expects to leave Washington about November 10 and will reach Los Angeles about the 20th. The members of the Naval Affairs Committee who are going to the Coast will not reach Los Angeles until some time early in December, at which time they also will be guests of the city.

Stephens is preparing to leave Washington as soon as the tariff bill is passed and he will be there to assist in welcoming both the assistant Secretary of the Navy and his fellow members on the Naval Affairs Committee.

JURISDICTION.

TO ASK RULING ON LAND ENTRY.

Supreme Court to Determine Rights of President.

Valuable California Oil Prospects Affected.

Decision Will Settle Cases of Midwest Company.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER, Sept. 30.—The United States Court of Appeals for the Eighth District will ask the United States Supreme Court for a ruling on the question of the right of a President of the United States to withdraw public lands from entry. This announcement was made today by Presiding Judge William C. Hook.

This request is made in the Midwest Oil Company cases, involving Wyoming lands, before the Court of Appeals for argument at the present session.

In making his announcement Judge Hook stated that the court had determined upon this course "because of the important issues involved." The outcome of the present case is expected to have an important bearing on litigation involving public lands in other States.

CALIFORNIA OIL LANDS. INVESTIGATION ASKED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Representative Thomson today reintroduced his resolution calling on the Department of Justice for information in relation to the alleged illegal retention and development of oil lands in California by the Southern Pacific Railway Company. A previous resolution, Mr. Thomson said, had been vetoed by the Judiciary Committee. The one he introduced today is in privilege form and he expects to call it up in the House within a few days.

Plain and Fancy Fall Suits $16

Values Range From $22.50 to $32.50.

Plain tailored and fancy suits of fine quality broadcloth, diagonals, ratines, home-spuns, Bedford cords, serges and zibelines in navy, Copenhagen or new blue, tan, brown, Nelrose, black, taupe, gray mixtures and plain grays; also various combinations in checks and stripes. The skirts, in the narrow and medium widths, are plain or draped. Every suit perfectly tailored. Sizes from 14 years for misses to 55 bust measure for large women. Values from $22.50 to $32.50. On special sale, $16.00.

Coats—Surprising Values at $13.95

At $13.95 we are showing an unrivaled line of fall and winter coats. An assortment of smart new models of chinchilla, homespun, gabeline, boucle and diagonals in plain colors, mixtures and two-toned diagonal effects. Full length and three-quarter length styles, some with big double storm collars.

Untrimmed $3.00 Nobby New Styles $5

Plush Shapes. In Dress Skirts. We are particularly proud of this $3.00 line of untrimmed plush shapes, for we know that it includes the best values you can find in town. The Longacre, Rita, Riveira, Ideal, Elysée, Estelle, Trouville and many other fashionable models in navy, Alice and new blue, dark brown, leather, bottle green, taupe, purple, cherry, black and white. Also a new line of white plush shapes faced with colored-green, brown, taupe, navy blue, purple and black.

Chic, New Trimmed

Millinery, $11.25. Typical of the smart new millinery we are showing at $11.25 is the taupe colored plush hat shown here. It has a soft tan crown; the mushroom brim is faced with silk in a delicate shade of old rose; and the ostrich feather trimming is taupe colored. Besides this one there are others equally beautiful, providing variety enough that every woman may find the hat best suited to her own individuality.

Get your Harbor LOT now before the SHIPS come.

BUY WATER-FRONT BUSINESS PROPERTY

Tract 2312 is the last of this valuable water front property. Big corporations and private parties own it all and it is not for sale. There are only about 60 of these lots left. Don't wait and wish you had bought that harbor lot. Don't envy the man who has made big money out of real estate, because you have the same opportunity now. Tract 2312 will make tremendous profits for some. When we, ourselves, and our own office force and friends buy lots here, it shows you what confidence we have in it. A visit to the tract will convince any one of its wonderful future. Only 5 blocks from present business center of San Pedro. At junction of Pacific Boulevard and 130-foot Harbor Boulevard. Pacific Electric right alongside of property. 1000 men now working within two blocks of us. With only a part of the estimated growth of business, these lots will be the exact center of this wonderful harbor activity. Lots now on sale for $1300—10% cash—terms easy. A lot 4 blocks from us that was sold for $300 ten years ago, is now assessed at $60,000. Lots here have a bigger future than this lot had then.

COME THURSDAY ON OUR BIG FREE EXCURSION

Autos leave from our office at 10:30. This is a harbor trip that is really worth while. Remember, also, that it is free. Phone your intention of going any time before Wednesday evening.

Boys and Girls Segregated in Poly High.

Best for the Students and Teachers, Is Belief.

Not to Be Made Complete, Says Principal.

Segregation, for the first time in the history of the Los Angeles schools, was accomplished at Polytechnic High School yesterday.

It is a well-known fact that bright and frisky pupils are wholly understandable, if not unethical, and the separating of the two classes of pupils has been known to take many a boy's attention from the school to the street.

Principal Dunn, however, believes that the separation of the two classes of pupils is a necessary step in the education of the boys and girls.

FISTS, PISTOLS OR LAWSUIT?

Lawyer and Broker Exchange Mighty Blows.

Latter Now Demands Action by District Attorney.

But He Warily Passes Buck to Bar Association.

The attack of a massive bulldog with underhand law upon a petterrier belonging to Thomas Lee Woolwine, lawyer and author, resulted in an admitted bout of fists, a few nights ago between Fielding J. Stilson, former member of the stock exchange, and Woolwine.

Yesterday Stilson wrote a letter to Dist. Atty. Fredericks asking for some sort of a complaint against his neighbor. Woolwine lived at No. 1849 Kennington road and the Stilsons reside at No. 1044 on the same street.

Capt. Fredericks neatly evaded being chewed up by the Stilson buldog or snapped at by Woolwine's pet-terrier. He merely referred the matter to the bar association.

Woolwine says he is ready and willing to fight an old-fashioned duel with Stilson but he has no desire to fight a duel with a man who has been convicted of a crime.

EAST AND WEST SEEK MILLIONS.

CONTEST IN FAMOUS DE BAKER ESTATE BEGINS.

Preliminary skirmish started before Judge Rives yesterday. New England descendants of First Husband of Rich Woman Seek a Foothold.

The first skirmish in the great battle for the estate of the late Mrs. Rebecca Dilley, nee Baker, valued at close to $2,000,000, was begun yesterday in the Probate Court before Judge Rives.

The setting for the scene was a striking array of the direct heirs of Mrs. Baker, filling most of the chairs in the lobby, while the chairs at the table, in the jury box and those remaining in the lobby, were taken by attorneys, either representing some phase of the litigation or drawn there by the importance of the argument, growing out of the magnitude of the estate and the possibility of later connection with it in a professional way.

The preliminary battle of yesterday resulted from the application of forty descendants of Abel Stearns, first husband of Mrs. Baker, all residents of New England, asking for a partial distribution of the property, seeking thus to establish themselves as rightful heirs to the bulk of the estate, claiming that the nucleus of the fortune had been accumulated by Abel Stearns, and that the now great wealth was inherited by the natural increase after his death.

The direct heirs of Mrs. de Baker, who died without leaving a will, while having petitioned the court for the distribution of the estate, strenuously resist the proposition of the Stearns heirs for a partial distribution, as it would establish their claims, and the latter interpose just as strenuously to prevent the distribution of the estate
as petitioned for by the Stearns heirs.

The entire forenoon was consumed in arguing before Judge Rives to determine whether or not he would hear the demurrer interposed on behalf of the de Baker heirs to the partial distribution asked for in the petition of the Stearns heirs. At the close of those arguments Judge Rives decided to hear the arguments on the demurrer.

He said, in effect, that he found no law to warrant hearing arguments on demurrer when points of law are not clearly established. He said that if the demurrer was sustained, the case would be thrown out of court, and the case would be renewed this morning.

Coroner Hartwell, who personally conducted the inquest held yesterday at Pierce Bros., said last night that the case was one of the most remarkable that had ever come within his experience.

"The testimony in this case, to my mind, certainly warrants a rigid investigation by the proper authorities.
All the witnesses summoned were present with the exception of Dr. Mc-Clintock. The subpoena sent to Dr. Mc-Clintock was mandatory and I could have issued a warrant bringing him in when he ignored the subpoena. I did not take this action, however, as I thought there was ample evidence to warrant an investigation without his testimony."

Efforts to locate Dr. McClintock last night were unavailing. Saturday night the surgeon said he would much rather be dead than testify. He said that he had been threatened with death if he testified against the Stearns heirs.
He said that he had been threatened with death if he testified against the

FOR GREATER 'PHONE SYSTEM.

Sunset to Spend Third of Million Here.

City's Rapid Growth Over- takes Facilities.

Reader Communication for Business District.

Confronted with the need of extending telephone facilities in this city the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company has appropriated $250,000 for expenditure in this city in the near future.

This is in addition to the $210,000 that is to be expended by the company in erecting a six-story office building at No. 622 South Hill street.
It is also independent of large appropriations which are to be made in the near future for additional facilities in half a hundred towns in Southern California.

The division of the expenditures is as follows: Additional cables, $155,000; new toll board, $100,000, and extension of facilities in business district, $95,000.

An additional expenditure in this city, as yet impossible to estimate, is included under an appropriation of $250,000 for connecting 15,000 additional stations throughout the State. As $200 telephone stations have been connected by the company in this city in the past year, this city's preponderant participation in the $250,000 appropriation is assured.

"We find ourselves confronted with a civic and suburban growth that has exceeded all previous forecasts," said Commercial Superintendent Mason yesterday. "Consequently, the appropriations made at this time are the direct outgrowth of a demand that threatens to overtax the facilities of the company. I might also say that the appropriations are the outgrowth of an intensive study of the immediate requirements of the Los Angeles main office."

The appropriation of $155,000 for additional cables is to cover the cabling of supplementary "talk wires" between the stations or districts known as East and Glendale,
East and Pasadena, East and Boyle, Verdugo and West, and West and Wilshire. These districts, which will be recognized by all who use the telephone as the prefixes of certain cable numbers, which obtain communication with the desired party, are those in which largest growth in telephone use has occurred.

As an instance of the growth of the business district and its consequent demand for ready communication with the outside world and with the component parts of itself, the $25,000 appropriation is amply sufficient. This money is to be used to extend the third of the units now furnishing the business district with this method of communication.

The toll board appropriation of $100,000 is the result of the interest relating interests of this city and the entire Southwest. The new board is expected to make it increasingly easy for the business man to communicate with parties throughout the State, Arizona and Nevada, as well as more distant parts.

The appropriations are predicated on an application by the company a few days ago to the State Railroad Commission for authority to issue $2,000,000 of its first mortgage and collateral trust 5 per cent. thirty-year bonds. It is the purpose of the company to use approximately $1,000,000 of the proceeds of the bonds to be used for general improvement throughout the State.

Bids for forty-inch and sixty-eight-inch riveted steel pipe, amounting to about 2675 tons, for the city trunk opened by the Board of Public Service Commissioners yesterday afternoon. The bids varied so much in regard to delivery and in specification that they will have to be figured out before it is known whose bid is best.

The specifications called for 32,417, 137 feet of forty-inch steel riveted pipe, and 2,684,857 feet of sixty-eight-inch pipe. The Lacey company's figures on the smaller pipe were $115, 730, and for the larger pipe, $118,
730.

ONE MONTH AND A FLEDGE.
Sentence Imposed in Federal Court on Man Convicted of Violating Postal Laws.

Judge Wellborn sentenced Ira R.
Sheekles to one month in the County Jail yesterday for writing a blackmailing letter to George J. Cote, a real estate man of this city, in which the accused demanded the payment of $2500 as the price of silence on the part of Sheekles regarding alleged immoral conduct of Cote. The prisoner pleaded guilty to violation of the postal laws.

Sheekles stated that he would not have written the letter but for the fact that he had been drinking heavily.
Cote formerly employed the man, who is a cement contractor. A number of witnesses testified to his previous good character. Sheekles promised never to drink again.

Being a genuine Pianola, the Stroud contains the Themodist
—the only device so far perfected by which a novice can bring out the melody above the accompaniment.
If you knew precisely what the Themodist does—how totally different it makes the rendition of any Music Roll—you would buy no Player but a genuine Pianola.
No Player without the Themodist can enable you to play the world's Masterpieces precisely as the Composer intended.
The Stroud has this ingenious device. We are glad to arrange convenient monthly terms of payment.

For a less expensive Player Piano, we recommend the Technola, at $475 and $500. This excellent instrument is a product of the Aeolian Company, and Stroud Pianolas.

Terms of $10 per month upward are granted.

Smart and Exclusive Suits at $35.00

The Suits we show at thirty-five dollars are suits that will appeal to women of judgment and taste. They are new and exclusive; styles we selected from late French models and had duplicated, thus reducing the price to about half that of the originals, while retaining all the newness and exclusiveness of the imported garment.

The same soft materials have been employed—du-vetines, velours de laines, broadcloths, poplins in their various cords, and other late weaves. In colorings the mahogany, tango, purple tones, brown and many blues are prominent.

We are especially enthusiastic over this line of suits because we feel sure the values will not be duplicated.

AQUEDUCT CELEBRATION PLANS ARE EXTENDING.

MEMBERS of the Aqueduct Cele-

day afternoon at the Cham-

the Driving Club to stage a classy programme of harness events at Exposition Park the second day of the celebration, and delegated Fred A.
Boruff to appoint a committee, with himself as chairman, to look after all details which will assure the comfort of those who may wish to attend the ceremonies which will feature the San Fernando valley's end of the big two-day celebration.

Arguing that during the celebration dates, Southern California will have many fine horses for the winter training season and that trainers and owners will welcome the opportunity to show the good points of their animals, L. J. Christopher, president of the Driving Club, suggested that the afternoon of November 6 be given up to the horse fanciers. His suggestion was unanimously approved and as a result Exposition Park is expected to see some high-class trotting and pacing horses as a final to the "welcoming of the water."

How are we going to handle them? asked President Hadford.
"Let Fred Boruff do it," suggested a commissioner.

As a result Boruff was delegated to select a self-selected committee, which will look after all transportation problems, public comfort, and the policing of the highways. He will probably appoint a marshal to have direct charge of the last of his onerous duties.

THE NEW VOCABULARY.
We printed an article in The Times saying that four new words are added to the English language every day. Most of us do not learn four new words in a year. Some of us are getting behind. The dictionary should worry.

A TARDY REWARD.
If the school teachers in California will work for thirty years and put up a dollar a month they will be given a pension at the end of that time. They prefer a bank account in their own name. It is a game that is hard to beat.

RICH PEOPLE.
Los Angeles county leads all others in the state in property valuation. If the people have confessed this much to the tax assessors, heaven only knows how rich they are! You see, confession can be good for the soul and still be an immense hardship on the purse.

NOT SO WARM.
Bonni de Castellano is said to be courting Miss Morgan, whose father died rich enough to leave her a shining mark to fortune hunters. Bonni has not made good as the husband of American heiresses. He is not as much of a bon mot as a door mat. Miss Morgan would probably not choose him for either. The Morgans were never much for spending money in excess baggage.

DO SOMETHING.
The depot committee of the Chamber of Commerce has presented the City Council with a petition signed by many business men asking for action on the Southern Pacific depot site. It seems that the railroad company would like to build a depot close to its own tracks and still be somewhere near the city. This would be so ornamental that we think it ought to be arranged. Nothing helps a railroad station more than a depot and we take it that the Southern Pacific would like to stop here on its way to Azusa, for water and oil.

A DELICATE SITUATION.
A naval officer gave a party at San Diego and announced the engagement of himself and a young lady of that city. The next day she repudiated his claims. The Times referred to him in its news columns as a water warrior. It may be that he intended to storm the lady with his announcement and it could be that she changed her mind. Women have been known to do such things. The slips between cup and lip are nothing compared with those between lip and lip. Anything may happen to an engaged man all the way down from the girl's mother to an elopement with a rival. Their friends are the ones who are most awkwardly placed for how can they tell who to congratulate? If a girl jilts a man, he loses, and if she marries him, she loses. What a pity it is that there is no plan whereby both may win!

A N OLD FAVORITE.
McKee Rankin is at the Auditorium this week. He has been on the American stage for nearly fifty-eight years and he never did better work than he is doing now. Down at the Burbank Harry S. Duffield is in his fifty-second year of work and he seems to be reaching the top of himself. There is no use in being too big a hurry about life. It runs with a wide margin and gets richer every step of the way. It will not give up its treasures on impatient demand. Wait a little and smile if you can. Work as you go and keep on smiling. In the end the pay is certain. Don't you know by this time that life keeps its accounts straight and is sure to pay? Don't you see that the trouble is that so many of us have only punishment coming to us as a reward? The McKees and the Duffields are the teachers from whom we may learn.

NO CHILDLESS TENANTS WANTED.
Mrs. Catherine C. D. Rogers of New York is a unique benefactress of our race. She has caused to be erected two five-story buildings of odd design, embracing many unusual features. They are divided into flats containing all modern improvements. The halls and staircases are of marble and the floors of hardwood. There is a large room on the second floor. In the basement are two perambulator rooms for the baby carriages of the tenants, and on the roof, in addition to the space for drying laundry work, is a children's playground properly protected.

The peculiar feature of this home is the rule that no tenant will be accepted whose income is more than $35 a week and where there is not at least one child in the family. There is a careful system of investigation of personal history and character of all applicants enforced. No leases will be granted except from month to month and the landlord reserves the right to terminate the occupancy of a tenant on short notice.

There has never been a time when the issues were sharply drawn between protection and free trade in this country that the people did not declare in favor of protection. The new tariff bill places the issue before the voters in a way that cannot be dodged. Even the meaningless declarations of President Wilson before election will not serve. The people will again condemn the Democratic party.

TARIFF HITS CALIFORNIA HARD.

Since the days of John C. Calhoun the great bone of contention between the Republican and Democratic parties has been the tariff. A table of Congressional elections would show that the country has been at nearly all times positively Republican.

Just prior to the Presidential campaign of 1908 a serious split occurred in the Republican party, part of the cleavage being along protective tariff lines. But the split was not wide enough to let the Democratic party into power.

Mr. Taft, the Republican President, took office March 4, 1909. He had been elected on a definite pledge to revise the tariff and the party went to work at once. In the month of May, two months after the inauguration, the Republican Congress passed a revised tariff law which the President promptly signed.

The Republican members of that Congress and the Republican President were of the wide, legitimate Republican family. California was particularly happy in having a delegation at the national capital of Republicans of this type who stood for the protection of every interest of producer and consumer, of manufacturer and merchant, of capital and labor in all parts of the United States, and this made friends for the California delegation who, when California interests came up, stood by them and gave us the most adequate protection on everything produced in the State that had ever blessed our people.

There crept into the Republican party serious dissensions, similar to those that had afflicted the Democratic party just prior to its retirement from power in 1860. The Parthenon Republicans, illegitimate offspring, raised a terrible cry about the betrayal of party pledges and the sacrificing of the interests of the "ultimate consumer," as if that did not mean every back and every mouth of every human being in the country.

The Democratic minority saw their opportunity and joined their voices with the illegitimate Republicans in both tears and denunciation of the iniquity done the "plain people" in raising the cost of living beyond their reach through protective tariff.

The election of 1912 came off and, the Republican party being split from crown to ankles, the minority party went into power.

Falsely claiming a commission from the people to reduce the tariff and thereby lower the cost of living, the Democratic minority, possessed of power, went to work at their self-imposed task. They had had a majority in the House of Representatives during the previous Congress and had passed a tariff law which failed to get through the Senate.

In spite of this preparation, and in spite of the fact that they refused to listen to any argument controverting their own view, by means of a caucus under a party whip, held by the Democratic President, they have taken until October to frame a law, whereas the Republicans had passed their revised tariff law in May.

We have the results of this minority law before us practically in its completeness, the signature of the President, the real author of the bill, sure to be attached to it with all its appendices. It is as certain as the sun shines that the party will be afflicted by a case of appendicitis, which the American people will cut out by a major operation when the next Congressional elections take place. In the fall of 1914, an operation which will continue for two years thereafter until the whole Democratic party shall go out of power.

The whole country has already suffered and will suffer from this ill-advised law passed by the House yesterday; but perhaps California will get it the worst. It is remarked above that the Payne-Aldrich bill of May, 1909, protected California interests better than the Dingley bill, better than the McKinley bill, better than all other Republican tariff bills which had always favored the State.

Beginning with the first letter of the alphabet and going to the last and following down to the et ceteras, every interest of California is hit in this Woodrow Wilson tariff bill and hit hard.

On ammonia the Payne bill gave a protection of 1 1/2 cents per pound, cut by the Democratic bill to three-quarters of a cent. On olive oil, Republican protection was 50 cents a gallon, while Democratic semi-free trade gives 30 cents a gallon. On Castile soap, into which refuse olive oil goes largely, the protection was 1 1/2 cents per pound; free trade 10 per cent, 40 valorem. On toilet soap, the Republican bill gave a protection of 50 per cent, reduced in the Democratic bill to 20 per cent. The Republican bill protected cement with a duty of 8 cents per 100 pounds, which the Wilson bill removes in a duty of 10 per cent, ad valorem. Marble was protected by a duty of 50 per cent, replaced in the Democratic bill by 50 cents per cubic foot.

The Payne bill protected copper plates with a duty of 2 1/2 cents per pound, replaced in the Wilson bill by an ad valorem tariff of 5 per cent. On lumber, Republican protection was a half-cent per cubic foot, lumber 50 cents per 1000 board feet, finished lumber $2.75 per 1000 board feet, shingles 50 cents per 1000. All of these go at one fell swoop on the free list.

Under the Payne bill sugar makers had a protection of ninety-five hundredths of a cent a pound on raw sugar and one cent on refined sugar, with 20 per cent protection on molasses. In order to get the whole bill through the Democratic Congress, a little baby pail was thrown to the whale by leaving a half-way protection on sugar for a few months, finally to go into the maw of Democratic free trade.

On cattle the American producers were protected under the Payne bill by a tariff of 2 1/2 per cent, and now this item goes into the free list. The bee men of California were protected under the Republican tariff law by a duty of 25 to 30 per cent on honey. And this goes on the free list.

Barley enjoyed a protective tariff of 30 cents a bushel; oats, 15 cents; butter and cheese, 8 cents a pound; hay, 4 a ton; strained honey, 30 cents a gallon; hops, 15 cents a pound.

The Democratic tariff reduces hay and honey by one-half, as the bill was reported out of the House, and it will be a wonder if they do not go on the free list in the end.

Wool, under the Payne bill, is divided into three classes and the duty ranges from 3 cents a pound on the coarsest waste up to 23 cents on the finest wools, all of which goes on the free list. Blankets paid a duty of 23 cents per pound, plus 30 to 55 per cent; woolen clothing, 44 cents a pound and 60 per cent ad valorem; carpets, 10 cents a square yard and 40 per cent ad valorem. These items as reported in the Wilson bill in the printed copy before us are reduced respectively to 25, 35 and 30 per cent, and will probably go on the free list in the end. Apples, peaches and other green fruits paid a duty of 25 cents a bushel, and preserved fruits of 2 cents a pound. The duty on the green fruits is cut to 10 cents and on the preserved to one cent; figs paid a duty of 2 cents; prunes, one cent; raisins, 2 1/2 cents, and currants the same. In the printed bill of the new list before us figs are cut to 2 cents, prunes to one cent, raisins to 2 cents and currants to 1 1/2 cents.

Even the henhouses are attacked in this new bill by these free-trade robbers. Under the Payne bill live poultry was required to pay a duty of 2 cents a pound, and dead, 5 cents a pound. With other meat products they will all probably be relegated to the free list.

In Southern California the great horticultural interest is citrus fruit. Oranges enjoyed protection under the Republican policy of one cent a pound and lemons 1 1/2 cents. As the Wilson bill was reported to the Conference Committee these duties were cut to a half-cent per pound.

In the free list go all acids of note, boric acid, nearly all sulphate of lime, borax, boracic acid, copper ore, eggs, lard, fresh fruit, potatoes and all live stock with nearly all its products, including hides and tallow.

Taking the whole country all through, this bill hits the producers of oats, whose product amounts in value to $381,000,000; while corn producers suffer to the tune of $1,600,000,000. The total value of all cereals hit by this free-trade bill amounts, in the raw, to $2,775,000,000. The live stock affected is worth $5,000,000; the butter interest figures at $115,000,000; honey, $14,000,000; cheese, $30,000,000; grapes, $14,000,000; hops, $4,000,000; beet sugar, $23,000,000, and cane sugar, $23,000,000.

In California the lumber affected rises to $50,000,000 board feet for redwood alone. The pine cut amounts to an equal amount. The beet sugar production of the State amounts to 150,000 tons, the hay crop is worth $40,000,000, the hop crop comes to about $10,000,000 pounds; the value of the cereal product of the State comes to about $50,000,000; the farm animals are worth $100,000,000; the wool clip amounts to over 15,000,000 pounds. Around Petaluma alone, the egg product amounts to over 7,000,000 dozen and in the rest of Sonoma county to 4,000,000 dozen, with a total production for the State of about 40,000,000 dozen. The butter production of the State amounts to 15,000,000 pounds and the cheese production runs over 7,000,000 pounds. The total value of dairy products runs to about $30,000,000. The honey crop amounts to as much as 12,000,000 pounds and the raisin crop to about 150,000,000 pounds. The annual value of the vineyard products is not less than $25,000,000.

The value of all the farm products in the State of California affected by these tariff bills runs to more than $400,000,000. The amount paid to labor on the California farms amounts to more than $50,000,000 a year.

Getting close to home, the products of all the counties of Southern California rise to a total of more than $250,000,000. In these, dried beans figure at over $5,000,000; borax, $2,500,000; butter, $3,600,000; canned goods, $2,000,000; cauliflower, cabbage and celery, $1,000,000; cement, $3,000,000; cheese, $25,000,000; eggs, $1,400,000; citrus fruits, $23,000,000; dried fruits, over $1,000,000; grain and hay, $7,500,000; honey, $100,000 and so on down to potatoes, which figure at $300,000; tomatoes at $190,000; wool, $500,000, and sugar, $10,000,000.

Does some ultimate consumer or some wage-earner rise and bellow "that it only hits the rich man, the producer, and does not affect us?" Listen! Sugar, after a few months, goes on the free list, and the factories right under our nose have already sent out notices that growers next year will get 75 cents per ton less for their beets, and this makes an average reduction to the beet growers of $15 an acre.

It will hit everyone from the office boy to the big farmer, the manufacturer, the wholesaler and merchant and the banker. The old Roman's parable comes in here about the members of the human body, or, as the apostle Paul puts it, "If one member suffer, all the members suffer with it."

The contention on which this disastrous bill is built is that the revenues were greater under the Payne bill than the government needed and that the consumer would get everything consumed at a lower cost directly in proportion to the reduction in the tariff.

Let us take the last argument first. Some years ago raw hides coming into the United States paid the government duties aggregating $3,000,000 a year. Hides were put on the free list and no tanner from that day to this has bought a hide or pelt or any skin a cent a ton cheaper by the removal of the duty, nor has any shoemaker or saddler bought a side of leather for one cent less, nor has any "ultimate consumer" bought a pair of shoes or a belt to go round his waist or a strap for his harness one particle cheaper.

As to the other contention, that too much revenue was being produced, that rests upon just as airy a pretense as the claim that the consumer would get goods cheaper. To guard against a deficit under the Wilson tariff bill, which it is to affect us for some months to come, the minority party has been forced to resort to direct taxation, levied on every man's income who has brains and industry enough to acquire an income of $3000 a year or more. This direct tax affects nearly half a million of the American people and takes directly out of their pockets over $80,000,000 a year. In addition there is the tax on corporations, which takes about half as much. Here we have direct taxation amounting to over $115,000,000 a year to prevent a deficit in the government revenues.

WELCOME TO GOD'S COUNTRY.
Los Angeles is standing upon the threshold of the mightiest destiny that ever awaited a city. She has grown and grown, and yet "all the summer of her fate shall seem fruitless beside its autumn."

English ship owners are building a fleet of great steamers on the Clyde to ply between Liverpool and San Pedro, stopping at the Azores and Havana. Twenty-six steamers will be placed by the Hawaiian company to run between Honolulu, San Pedro and New York. A Canadian company has contracted for twenty-two steamers to run between Vancouver, San Francisco, San Pedro and New York, and the ocean will be dotted with tramp steamers, so that steamship monopoly will be impossible.

Soon Los Angeles and her suburban and urban valleys will be supplied with water from an aqueduct.

"Fed by the melting snows that start Where the sparkling rills peak gleam, Their course in free and witherless glee They leap in the sun's broad beam."

Natural gas and fuel oil and electrical power are at our doors, industrial freedom and protection to capital and labor invite manufacturer and mechanic. Bending orchards, January roses and fields like the lawn of Paradise extend welcoming arms to our Atlantic friends. Hall to Los Angeles!

"Queen of the West! Fair city of our hope, With majesty of mountain girl about, And at thy feet the sea, mist-swathed at dawn;

Banded with jewels, like the sky at night The soft Pacific wave that laves thy feet, Urges thy freighted ships to distant shores, Bringing the treasures of the East again, Here is thy throne of beauty; here we see The last great monument that man has set To mark his slow and painful westward way.

Mother of giants yet to be, all hail! Pulsing with joyous life in all thy veins, Rich, warm and young!

"How beautiful thou art, Stretching thine arms to meet the Orient; Gazing with eyes of mystery, to pierce The far sea spaces; dreaming, motherlike; The boundaries of thy power still unset, The wonder of the destiny unknown."

THE PHOENIX.

BY GORDON RAY YOUNG.

From out the furious fire and smoke That Demons of Destruction breathed, The broad, bright-winged Phoenix broke, and Wheeling high amid the smoke-wreathed, Looked down on flames that raged and seethed, Then sung defiance forth and spoke:

"To savage cowards, unforged by shame, Who murder brave men in the night, Think ye to rule by bomb and flame A Nation that believes in right? Or silence Honor's voice by fright? Or rob the scroll of Freedom's name?"

"This day of darkness shall grow bright As years leap from the bow of Time, And in the future's golden light The world will heed how from a crime There sprang a triumph full sublime And drove Disaster into flight."

The blow of violence may crush The life or work of stoutest men— But all the hordes of Hell can't crush The fearless lips of Courage when A duty looms within the ken And bids them speak—or, silent, blush.

Through all the summer months we coughed our coins to dodge the heat; the ice-man's snap was large and soft, distributing his ale. And now, while winter rants and groans, while howls the deadly storm, we'll cough up all our extra bones in effort to keep warm. The coal man is a cheerful wight, and caught his rapine by day in motor cars. In gilded luxury he rolls, he sicken raiment wears, while away-backed hirelings pack his coals up thirty flights of stairs. He is a crank on honest weight, a Spartan soul in her; and oft he throws in chunks of slate to give variety. When wintry tempests round us shriek, the most of us repine; but that's the coal man's time to speak an optimistic line. The blast can't sort around too hard to please this cheery soul, while there are wagons in his yard a-loading up with coal. And so the good old coal man grins, his laughter flows in rills; he dumps his debris in our bins and then sends in his bills.

INCREASED SALES TO JAPAN.
BY WALTER J. BALLARD.

In 1913 fiscal year we sold more goods to Japan than to all the rest of Asia combined, according to official figures of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce of the Department of Commerce. The exports to Japan increased that year by $4,363,000, while those to all the rest of Asia combined decreased by $4,500,000. Here are the figures:

Exports to Japan $7,741,815
Exports to all the rest of Asia 57,314,805

Quite a many countries are included in "all the rest of Asia." Adding the exports to Korea to Japan's own figures (which may very properly be done, as Japan owns Korea) and also those to Japanese territory in China, we have:

Exports to Japanese possessions $59,720,857
Exports to "all other Asia" 55,335,769
Japanese excess 4,385,082

Exports to Japan in 1913 were larger than ever before and were more than two and a half times as great as in 1910. Only twice before have they crossed the $50,000,000 line, namely:

1905 $51,719,633
1912 53,478,646

In comparison with our sales to Japan in 1913 were those to:

China $21,332,000
British India 11,000,000
Dutch East Indies 3,151,000
Austrian Russia 1,101,419
Turkey in Asia 1,096,748

Raw cotton is our largest single export to Japan, though manufactures as a whole show a larger total value and manufactures are our best export. Here are the principal items:

Raw cotton $35,000,000
Flour 3,333,000
Iron pipes and fittings 1,666,000
Locomotives 1,233,000
Rails for railways 1,250,000
Structural iron and steel 500,000
Iron and steel sheets and plates 1,233,000
Nails and spikes 400,000
Railway cars 150,000
Tin plates 100,000
Illuminating oil 4,500,000
Lubricating oil 500,000
Sole leather 500,000
Fertilizers 500,000

And a host of other items in smaller amounts. Japan as a buyer is of great value to us. That fact should be strictly borne in mind, no matter what, at times, may be the political irritation between the two countries.

WEDNESDAY MORNING.

Life's Gentler Side—Society, Music, Song and the Dance—The Theaters.

MOVEMENTS IN SOCIETY.

THE romantic little Episcopal Church at West Adams and Tri-guerra streets was last evening

the setting of a wedding of wide interest, when Miss Kathleen Spring, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

Albana Spring of Beverly Hills, became Mrs. Theodore Cadwalader.

Young Cadwalader, a popular member of the Bachelors' Club, was recently graduated from Stanford, and is in business with his brother in this city. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs.

George Cadwalader, of No. 2441 Van

Buren place.

The church was a mass of pink glory, hundreds of carnations and gladioli having been chosen by the bride for decorations. The pews were decorated with bouquets of these flowers tied with tulle and the chancel, backed with ferns and palms, was lighted here and there with clusters of the pink posies.

Mrs. Lawrence Field Kelsey, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Stanley A. Viet, who will be remembered as Miss

Bas Belle Morlan, had the first place of honor among the bride's attendants.

They were attired alike in hand-er's best man. The ushers were Stanley A. Viel, Silby Spaulding, Loraine

Mackay, Lawrence Field Kelsey and

Russell Slade. Rev. George Davidson,

rector of St. John's, was the officiating clergyman.

Following the reading of the lines, a supper was served at the Jonathan

Club, where there were covers for the bride party and Mrs. Spring, who was attired in silver and coral brocade with trimmings of Chantilly lace; Mrs.

George Cadwalader, who was attractive in lavender brocade over white satin; Mr. Spring, Mr. Cadwalader, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Gunn, brother and sister of Mrs. Spring, who came from the north for the service;

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kelsey and Van

Kelsey.

Killmarry roses and maidenhair enlivened the table, where places were marked with cards, hand-decorated, with pink roses. Gold baskets on the handles of which perched white doves, were given as favors.

A motor trip will be included in the wedding journey and later Mr. and Mrs. Cadwalader will reside at No.

BLACKWOOD SENDS ROSTER OF LITTLE THEATER CAST.

BY GARDNER BRADFORD.

I THOUGHT that John Blackwood

had gone back on me, for when he went to New York he never even stopped to say good-by, but last night he came through by wire and gave me a line on what he is doing for "The Little Theater," which now promises to be a very big little theater, indeed.

John has been busy signing up the company, and if you look back over some of the old Blackwood programmes

you will find most of the names in them.

For instance, there is Katherine

Grey for leading woman. I was east when she was out here, and know her best as one of the best supports the late Richard Mansfield ever had.

And for good measure he has also engaged Fanchon Everhart, also a former Belasco player.

Then, too, there will be Frank Elliott, who last season was leading man for Blanche Bates, while another member of the new company will be

Campbell Gollan, who has been with the Charles Frohman and David Belasco forces for quite some time.

Oh, dear, now, it is not a much masculine company, by any means, for besides the ladies I have already mentioned, there will be Helen Tracy,

Anna Settle and some others not yet announced.

Now, on paper, this looks like a coring good company, but that is not all, for the ladies I have already mentioned, there will be Helen Tracy,

one in "Frisco which will eclipse the mother institution.

It is to have a seating capacity of 4000 and the biggest stage in the country. Behind the project are S.

Morton Cohn, Irving C. Herman,

Sam Harris and Charles H. Brown, who also form the directorate of the local company.

Mr. Brown, who is treasurer of the company, is in Los Angeles now, trying to figure out the seating capacity of the Los Angeles Hippodrome can be increased another thousand without tearing out the roof or digging a sub-cellar. He and Resident Manager

Lester Fountain, are having nightly conferences on the subject.

As I told you yesterday, or, rather,

"Mary Magdalene" Falls Short of "Magda."

A Good Spectacle, but No Life to It.

Sounds Note of Drama Not Yet Arrived.

BY HENRY CHRISTEEN WARNACK.

Mary Magdalene does not compare with "The Terrible Meek." Therefore I shall not compare them. Ma-sterlinck understands Mary Magdalene. Mr. Maeterlinck is a wonderful man. He knows what an impression a great many of his plays, but when he wanted to write something for his own wife he forgot symbolism and blue roses and got down to business with a good old fashioned melo-dramatic which no one could possibly spoil.

That was Mona Vana and it has nothing to do with the subject now under discussion.

I repeat that Mr. Maeterlinck is a wonderful man. He knows all about the stage, which I appreciate as one who has often been stung. He also knows something about bluebirds. I presume, because he writes a play by that name which has nothing about bluebirds in it.

Maeterlinck is a poet and a visual-ist and he thinks more daring than he speaks. His plays never thunder not think that the refrains of the angel make good drama.

The warm heart and the cool brain seldom go together as well in genius

as their union in Maeterlinck, and he has made a place in letters that in all his own and has encouraged a type of drama which is on the way,

but which has some distance to travel

before it can be said to have arrived.

We have it to face, but the anguish is still a little distant. Partly the audiences have to grow up, too, and that also is another story.

Mrs. Scott is not so good an actress in "Mary Magdalene" as she is in

"Magda," but she is just as lovely.

If anything, she was more beautiful in the second role at the Auditorium

last night than she had been in

"Magda" the night before. And her gowns were gorgeous. For the rest of the week these plays will alternate.

LONG BEACH, Sept. 30.—The annual conference of the Southern California Methodists will begin tomorrow morning, and indications this morning were that when the conference opens practically every member of the conference will answer roll call. The conference will answer roll call, and the bishop arrived today, in the morning. The bishop and his wife, who preside over the week's deliberations, and all are quartered at Hotel Santa Anita, where tonight the local committee tendered a reception to Bishop Hughes. The lobby and saloon were filled early and the great crowd of the bishop attended to his duties in Long Beach.

The Municipal Band gave a concert at the hotel from 7 to 7:30, and the crowd was called to the saloon by Charles F. Vandenkerckhoff, and short addresses of welcome were given by Mayor Hatch on behalf of the city, Rev. A. R. Moore, pastor of the local Methodist church, Rev. E. D. Knicker for other denominations, and W. H. Wallace for the city. The response was made on behalf of the conference by Rev. E. D. Knicker, D.D., of U.S.C.

Following a tour solo by Prof. E. Under Hyer, Bishop Hughes delivered an address on the subject of "The Church and the World." Tomorrow morning at 8 a.m. there will be a service by Rev. F. Watson Hanson, pastor of the Methodist church, and at 10 a.m. the conference will open and will be devoted to the business of the conference. The afternoon will be devoted to the business of the conference. The afternoon will be devoted to the business of the conference.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 30.—Alfalfa, clover and walnut crops were the only crops normal or above that point this year in California, according to figures announced today at the office of the State Horticultural Commission. The estimates were made from returns submitted to the commission by County Horticulturists.

The apricot crop in some sections was exceedingly poor, but in other sections it was above normal, so that the general average will make this year's crop about 80 per cent. as large as last year. The grape output, including raisins, was about 80 per cent. of normal, while the peach crop is within 10 per cent. as large as that of 1912. Plums and cherries did not come up to last year's crop, but about 10 per cent. although in some sections a figure above normal is recorded. The prune product is 95 per cent. of normal, while predictions for apples, the crop not yet having been harvested, are optimistic.

From early estimates, the citrus fruit crops will range within 20 per cent. of normal. Despite the shortage in practically all the deciduous fruit crops, the returns were equal to last year, growers reporting better prices for their products. The drought throughout the State interfered with hay and grain crops, cutting them down to 80 per cent. of normal. Excessive heat in July and August, coupled with the scarcity of water, brought about the damage to horticultural growth.

"On the whole," a supplementary statement says, "the financial returns from deciduous horticultural crops this year will not be below last year, despite the unfavorable weather experienced."

CUPID CAPTURES WARRIOR.
Miss Florence Altkin Will Wed Lieut. Simpson—Fashionable San Francisco Awaits Event.

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The wedding of Miss Florence Altkin and Lieut. William Fitzhugh Lee Simpson, U.S.A., promises to be one of the most brilliant of the year. It will take place at 1 o'clock tomorrow evening in St. Luke's Episcopal Church, and will be attended by all the gilt and glitter of the city.

Miss Altkin is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Altkin and is a remarkably pretty girl, with large dark eyes and black hair. She is identified with a number of the smart dancing clubs and is included in the cotillion. Mrs. Scott Hendricks, Mrs. Charles H. Holbrook, Mrs. Charles Albert Vance, and Miss Mary Bates. The bridegroom is a son of Col. and Mrs. William A. Simpson, who was stationed at the Presidio for some time, and a brother of Harold Naylor, the wife of Lieut. Harold Naylor, who is now stationed in the Philippines.

The color scheme of the wedding decorations has been kept a secret, as have the designs for the bride's and bridesmaid's costumes, but the men will wear the army full-dress regulation. Mrs. George Bainbridge will act as matron of honor, and the bridesmaid will be Miss Georgia Off and Miss Belle Hechtman of Sacramento. Miss Ethelyn Carson of Los Angeles, and Miss Gladys Boston of this city. The brother of the bridegroom, Lieut. William Hood Simpson, will be the best man, and the ushers who will act as Lieuts. J. W. S. Simons, Thomas Hunter, Wylie Conway, and Capt. William Simons.

This evening, Mrs. George Bainbridge entertained the members of the bride's party at an enjoyable supper, upon their return from the wedding rehearsal.

CALIFORNIA'S INVESTMENT
IN AUTOS INCREASED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
SACRAMENTO, Sept. 30.—California's investment in automobiles in eight years was increased to $250,270,000 by the purchase during September of 2295 new machines for business and pleasure purposes, according to figures announced today by Secretary of State Jordan. Since the motor vehicle department was established in 1905 a grand total of 118,135 cars have been registered in the office. It is estimated that the average value of a car is $2000.

A total of 21,310 chauffeurs have been licensed to operate automobiles in California. The receipts of the motor vehicle department for September were $6025.

RESISTS SUICIDE DEFENSE.
Prosecution Produces Evidence that Woman at Santa Cruz Did Not Take Poison or Shoot Herself.
[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
SANTA CRUZ (Cal.) Sept. 30.—Uncovering new evidence in his possession, Dist. Atty. B. K. Knight, in making his opening address today to the jury that will try Nikolaus Tsakonas for the murder of Mrs. Despina Watt three months ago, said that the prosecution would prove that Mrs. Watt did not poison herself and that she could not have inflicted the gunshot wounds in her body. Tsakonas told the jury that after the shooting that the Watt woman had been taking morphine during the day and that at night, after administering an overdose with intent to take her life, she told him to kill himself with a revolver, which he tried to do.

Knight informed the jury that a chemical analysis of the contents of the woman's stomach failed to show any trace of morphine and that bullet holes in the walls of the room, which the shooting occurred indicated that it would have been impossible for Mrs. Watt to have fired the shots. That Tsakonas planned the elopement from San Francisco with Mrs. Watt a week before the tragedy and that he paid some of his effects to buy the revolver, is part of the case of the State.

Judge D. L. Phillips of Hanford, who was a guest at the hotel where the shooting took place, was the first witness today. He testified that the assistant manager of the hotel had given him two pieces of paper found in the room occupied by the defendant and Mrs. Watt, which, when properly arranged, were found to contain the address of J. A. S. Watt of San Francisco, husband of the woman.

Watt will take the stand against Tsakonas.

SOLDIER'S WIFE SEEKS DIVORCE.
Military Captain Faces End of Married Life as Well as Proposed Board of Inquiry.

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The troubles of Capt. R. Moore, formerly of the California Grays, and now attached to the Second Company Coast Artillery Reserve of the National Guard, are not confined, it appears, to military affairs. On the 25th of the present month he was accused of failure to account for the company's funds and threatened with a board of inquiry. Today his wife, Henrietta Moore, filed a complaint for divorce with the County Clerk, declaring that financial affairs at the Moore home also were at sixes and sevens.

The parties to the action were married in Los Angeles, May 5, 1909, when the skies were blue, but they are now and money troubles less in evidence. Since then, according to Mrs. Moore, the defendant has been afflicted with a distinct mania to work. For more than a year past, she declares, he has failed and neglected to provide her with the common necessities of life.

She asks for freedom from her matrimonial bonds and for alimony in whatever sum the court may find her entitled. Her complaint was filed by Attorney Percy E. Towne this afternoon and has not yet been assigned for trial to any department.

As to Moore's more strictly military troubles, it is said that he has failed to provide the company treasury with $100 which should be there. Or, at least, it appears that it should be there, according to statements that have been made, although it also appears that the accounts of the organization are in such a confused state that it is difficult to tell just how much money there ought to be to the company's credit.

No intentional dishonesty is charged against the captain, but it is alleged that his personal funds and those of the company have become mixed up with the accounts of check issued by him to men of the company in payment for work during the recent encampment at Ft. Winfield Scott. Some of the checks are said to have come back dishonored.

The board of inquiry appointed to investigate these charges was appointed by Adjt.-Gen. Edwin A. Forbes.

PAID HER HUSBAND'S BILLS.
Wife Divorces Rich New York Club Man Who Never Gave Her a Cent During Their Married Life.

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Without the sensational features which it was said would stir the folk of California, New York and Georgia, Mrs. Telamon S. Cuyler, formerly Grace Barton of Alameda, went before Judge Trout today and obtained an interlocutory decree of divorce from her husband, who is a wealthy club man of New York and cotton planter of Atlanta, Ga.

The sensational adventures of Attorney Frank H. Powers in serving Mrs. Cuyler's summons upon the husband, when he pursued Cuyler through Arizona, New Mexico, Old Mexico and Texas on horseback, in automobile and on foot, were not made part of the evidence except in the deposition of Attorney Powers, already filed.

Cuyler was not at court, being at his plantation in Jones county, Georgia. Mrs. Cuyler charged that, although her husband's income was $70,000 a year during the thirteen years of their married life, she never received a cent from him; that he starved society folk of California, New York and Georgia, and that he had to pay for her hotel bills and never bought her a new hat or a theater ticket. Moreover, she claimed, he never contributed a cent for the education of their two children.

"I have asked for a divorce, Judge, because I am tired of supporting a husband," said Mrs. Cuyler. "Mrs. Cuyler made lots of money, but he squandered it as fast as it came in. I had to pay for our apartments in Paris, and while I was there and he was in America he was constantly calling me for large sums."

The corroborating witness was Mrs.

A Leafy Dell Near Beverly Hills

BEVERLY HILLS presents a new charm for those who dwell amid their classic shades, with each new day. Through many a leafy dell, or rugged canyon one may wander and feast his eyes on scenes new and inspiring. He may scale the Santa Monica Mountains, if he wish, or motor to the surf, only a few miles away; there are plenty of changes of scene and air for him whichever way he turns after he leaves his own vine and fig tree.

These varied attractions are at his door, not a day's journey away. He is not planting a home amid prosaic surroundings when he comes to Beverly Hills. Far from it. A great sweep of country lies before him. The way to and from his home is a royal road, lined for miles with mansions, lovely trees and rare shrubs.

Bids for Road Improvements in San Benito, Monterey and Orange Counties Are Opened.
[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
SACRAMENTO (Cal.) Sept. 30.—The California State Highway Commission this afternoon opened the bids for three portions of road improvement to be made. The stretch in San Benito county, estimated cost of $54,177.48, was bid upon by eight firms, the bids ranging from $24,650 to $51,836.50. The improvements in Monterey county, estimated cost $89,654.49, brought out eight bids, ranging from $27,998.50 to $48,150.25. The Orange county improvements, estimated cost $69,233.89, were bid on by nine firms. The bids ranged from $56,946.30 to $85,619.20.

American Association of Drugless Physicians Seeks to Legalize Its Methods by Incorporation.
[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
SACRAMENTO (Cal.) Sept. 30.—Articles of incorporation for the American Association of Drugless Physicians were filed this morning with Secretary of State Jordan. The main purpose of the association is to legalize and regulate drugless methods of treating sick people with side issues of owning real estate and promoting social intercourse. There are eleven directors with principal offices in San Francisco.

REPORT ON JORDAN INQUIRY.

All Books and Papers of Legislative Investigation to Be Turned Over to Webb.
SACRAMENTO, Sept. 30.—The State Board of Control, which began an investigation of Secretary of State Frank Jordan's administration of the State motor vehicle department during the last legislative session, the probe being interrupted at the request of Jordan and turned over to the Legislature, probably will transmit all records and evidence in the case to Atty.-Gen. Webb.

This announcement was made at the board's office today. The legislative resolution calling the attention of the Attorney-General to the practices of a clerk in Jordan's office collecting money for furnishing automobile insurance companies with the automobile registration lists and recommending that suit be brought against the Secretary of State for the recovery of moneys thus collected, the board contends, takes the matter out of its hands.

As a consequence the board will end the affair so far as it is concerned with the transmission of the documents to the Attorney-General.

Reveals Smuggling Plan.
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] The Moo De tons were recently reported by a San Francisco Chinatown man turned over to the United States District Attorney's office several letters revealing a plan for the wholesale smuggling of Chinese into the United States from Mexico.

The Telephone Always on Guard

HERE is never a moment, day or night, when your Bell Telephone is not a protection. In the busy hours of the day and the silent watches of the night, the switchboard operator is always ready to answer a call. The telephone is as much a part of the protective system of each community as the police and fire departments. There's always a feeling of security in the knowledge that close at hand is the means of calling aid quickly when you most need it. More than 70,000 cities and towns are protected day and night by the Bell Telephone system. 7,500,000 Bell Telephones are on guard. In thousands of rural communities it is the chief reliance in emergencies and times of danger. Every Bell Telephone is a Long Distance Station.

Pasadena. WATERMELON IS INVOLVED.

Pasadena Official Denies, but a Woman Affirms.

Pating Man on Back Another Grievous Charge.

Board of Education Needs Three New Schools.

PASADENA, Oct. 1.—After the City Commissioners had spent part of several days in an effort to determine whether the bar of Charles D. Wilson, corner of Mountain street and Galena avenue, is a nuisance and an unsanitary place, as alleged by neighbors, and had paid a visit to the premises, they were confronted by a delegation yesterday which claimed that Commissioner Loughery on that occasion sat on the ground in the shade of the barn and ate a watermelon with Wilson, and that when he arose to go he patted Wilson on the back.

Commissioner Loughery vehemently denied that he had done any such thing. Whoever it was who had a slice of watermelon and patted Wilson on the shoulder, he says, it was not he.

Mrs. B. D. Snyder led the attack. She was accompanied by her husband, J. P. Foote, and G. W. Huber. Wilson appeared alone to defend himself. The entire party stormed the City Hall as the Commission convened and immediately an active discussion was begun.

Mrs. Snyder made her accusation against the alleged watermelon incident.

"I was never on Wilson's premises while he was there," said Commissioner Loughery.

"Yes, you were," retorted Mrs. Snyder. "You ate a watermelon with him. You laughed and patted him on the back and said that the barn was all right."

"I did not," retorted the Commissioner. "You are certainly laboring under a great mistake."

Mrs. Snyder, however, was not to be convinced that the Commissioner has a double, any more than was Commissioner Loughery that he had had a piece of watermelon to eat on that day.

The protesters then took another tack and hypothetically placed the barn on Orange Grove avenue, for the sake of argument.

"You wouldn't leave it there a minute," they said to the Commissioner. "Why do you allow it to remain where it is?"

Wilson claims that there is nothing objectionable about its place and the Commissioner are in doubt themselves what should be done and hesitate to involve the city in a suit over the matter. The session finally adjourned without definite action and the problem is no nearer a solution than it was before.

The board of education met yesterday to discuss the proposed bond issue for the purpose of building two, or perhaps three, new schools, but as there was some difference of opinion among the members as to whether the voters should be asked for it, it was determined that nothing should be done in the matter until after the members of the board have made a personal inspection of the school buildings that they seek to relieve from congestion. This trip of inspection will be made today, and will be as comprehensive as possible.

The board will then probably soon call a special meeting for the sole purpose of considering the proposed bond issue.

WORK IS BEGUN.

Surveyors are already at work in the upper Arroyo Seco, working out the preliminary plans for the proposed dams with which the City Commissioner Salisbury, who has charge of the water department, believes that much of the water which each spring escapes can be retained and held in an even flow, so that it can be used much later in the season. It is not plan to make dams through which no water can escape, but rather to retard the floodwaters with dams constructed of brush and stones.

The City Commissioners today will make a trip of inspection to the power plant of Los Angeles in San Francisco Canyon, along the line of the equator, which will be accompanied by General Manager C. W. Koller of the municipal lighting plant and City Engineer L. E. Smith. This power plant is sixty miles from Pasadena.

The Tournament of Roses Association has accepted a design for the 1914 poster, which will be distributed in large numbers throughout the Pacific Coast and in the East to the City of Pasadena. The poster was designed by J. W. Robertson of Los Angeles and represents an old Roman chariot race. The track shows a chariot with four horses and a driver, urged on by a team of Romans. It is declared by the directors of the association to be one of the most striking posters the organization has ever produced. Forty-five thousand are to be printed for distribution at all ways and steamship offices.

The real work of preparing for the coming tournament will be begun today. Although there is much work to be accomplished in the summer, it is not until October that the heavy task begins.

Roy Knabenshue made another flight yesterday in his dirigible balloon. He flew over Pasadena at about the same height he kept the day before. With him in the car, besides his assistant, were two motorcyclists, one from South Pasadena and Frank H. Oliphant and George H. Harrison of Los Angeles. They are all wearing helmets and the airship probably carried the heaviest load with which it has yet been laden. Flights are to be continued.

The season's events at the Altadena Country Club will open on the 10th with a Panama Canal celebration. Many of the members who were away for the summer will have then returned and photographic views will be shown on a stereopticon screen. These were taken by Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Coulton on their recent trip to the Canal Zone.

Fortified with a photograph of the Pasadena High School, to be under the direction of H. H. Parker. There are now sixteen musicians enrolled.

San Pedro. RED RIBBON CONSPIRACY ENDS IN ABJECT FAILURE.

SAN PEDRO, Sept. 30.—A sour trick was played this afternoon by a coterie of women passengers of the steamer Rose City, upon W. Lawton, an ardent aviator of some seventy summers and winters, and a resident of Los Angeles, when the steamer docked.

Lawton was at the wharf to meet Mrs. Lavina Johnson of San Francisco, aged about 65, his intended bride whom he had never seen but whose charms had been described to him through the medium of a matrimonial bureau and by private correspondence.

The aged Lochinvar had taken the precaution to send a wireless to Mrs. Johnson when the Rose City was about 100 miles at sea, informing her to be sure to wear a red ribbon in her hair as a means of identification and advising her that he would appear on the dock with a suit-case with a red bandanna handkerchief tied in the handle.

Lavina, in her youthful enthusiasm, could not keep her happy secret and told it to a few women passengers on the steamer, showing the message. Immediately the conspiracy started. All the red ribbon on board was confiscated and when the steamer docked, W. Lawton, impatient and anxiously awaiting his fiancée, was confronted by the appearance of some twenty or thirty women coming down the gang plank all wearing a red ribbon in their hair.

Fortified with a photograph of his intended bride, Lawton peered anxiously into the faces of the oncomers, most of whom were in convulsions of mirth. However, far toward the end of the line came Lavina, to whom the event was no joke, and when she struck at sea, informing her to be sure to wear a red ribbon in her hair as a means of identification and advising her that he would appear on the dock with a suit-case with a red bandanna handkerchief tied in the handle.

Redondo Beach. SON DISCOVERS A LOST FATHER.

REDONDO BEACH MAN WILL GET HALF MILLION.

Story Which Reads Like the Scenario of a Moving Picture Develops When Son Goes East to Find His Relative—Will Welcome the Harvard and Yale.

REDONDO BEACH, Sept. 30.—After an absence of twenty-four years, William T. Fitzpatrick, Jr., of this city, visited his aged father, W. T. Fitzpatrick, Sr., at his home in Mt. Sterling, Ky., and found that for four years his father had hunted in vain for him to share his wealth with him. The story of the reunion of father and son and the incidents leading up to it sound like a moving picture scenario.

W. T. Fitzpatrick, Jr., proprietor of La Neptune apartments, the Phoenix and the Emerald House of this beach, returned today from Mt. Sterling and Lexington, where he had been for a week on his quest for his father and son and the incidents leading up to it sound like a moving picture scenario.

When Fitzpatrick, Jr., was but two years old his father and mother separated and later Mrs. Fitzpatrick went to Farmington, Ark., where she married a man named Lyons. Young Fitzpatrick was given the name of Lyons and until the death of his mother, when he was 15 years of age, he had not heard of his father in Kentucky. When told of his true parentage he wrote to his father and received a letter telling him to come to Kentucky and receive an education. But young Fitzpatrick chose to go West and went to Albuquerque, N. M., although he then took the train to Los Angeles and remained in the city for some time.

San Bernardino. CAMPAIGN IS HEATED.

SOUTH PASADENA, Sept. 30.—Fifteen-minute service to Los Angeles on the Short Line from 6 o'clock in the evening until 11:45, is now in effect, the new fall and winter time tables of the Pacific Electric having been put in operation Saturday.

This is a marked improvement over transportation facilities formerly enjoyed between this city and Los Angeles, as Short Line cars ran only every half hour from 7 o'clock, under the old schedule. There are practically no other important changes in the service. The improved even in service will be a great convenience to tourists and others who wish to go to Los Angeles at night.

Further betterment of transportation facilities for this city has been promised by President Phil Shoup of the Pacific Electric, immediately on the completion of the elevated track system from the Sixth and Main street station to San Pedro street and north on San Pedro to Aliso, where the interurban cars on the Southern California Railway, instead of running on Main street, which will do much to cut down the time between the two cities.

NEWS BRIEFS.

The opening of the club year of the Women's Improvement Association will take place tomorrow in its new clubhouse with the president's reception, at which members only are invited. The executive board, including Mrs. Frank Stephens, Mrs. Jonathan S. Dodge, Mrs. Frank C. Delano, Mrs. Edward Rust, Mrs. George Alford Miller, Mrs. Leo Longley, Mrs. Cornelia Gates and Mrs. E. L. B. Godfrey, will be in the receiving line, and they will be assisted by the chairman of all committees and the past presidents. Pouring tea will be Mrs. E. E. Washburn and Mrs. Franklin Miller. An orchestra will furnish delightful music to the accompaniment of formal conversation, and about 250 guests are expected.

Facts and figures were the arguments used in support of the bond issue at the Lincoln Park school, under the Chamber of Commerce. Seward C. Simons spoke of the benefits to be derived from the proposed improvements and gave figures to show that a bond issue would be the quickest and most economical way to obtain them. He said the bonds should be voted whether we joined Los Angeles or not, because in any case we would have to pay for them.

PUTS HIS WITS TO WORK.

Whittier Mail Clerk Solves the Problem of Carrying for Increased Business.

WHITTIER, Sept. 30.—The fellow who said "necessity was the mother of invention" most likely never heard of the parcel post, but he was right about it, and the parcel post has brought out an invention here in the shape of a two-wheel motorcycle trailer for carrying parcels.

A Whittier postman, Will Braught, is the man who worked out the plan and made the new delivery car in his spare moments. And now he glides through Whittier streets on his motor, putting the annex with as much as 25 pounds of mail matter in it. The car uses a pair of old bike wheels, has a unique spring arrangement, and is a detachable or attachable instantly. A screen cover prevents any parcels from spilling out and a canvas cover is used for inclement weather. The outfit has just been put into operation, but so far is highly successful.

Postal authorities everywhere are up against a hard proposition on account of the vastly increased delivery necessitated by the inauguration of the parcel post. Postmaster Baldwin of Whittier believes that this new trailer for the motorcycle has solved the problem here and he will report the workings of the scheme to the department at Washington.

COVINA BICYCLIST TURNS CORNER in a Hurry and the Result Is in Hospital Day-Long.

COVINA, Sept. 30.—Two riders on bicycles dodging around an oil wagon, crashed together this afternoon, and the result was a hospital day-long for Wilbur Nye, son of W. P. Nye of Rowland avenue, received a severe injury to his face. The upper jawbone, where it forms an orbit for the eye, was crushed in. The wound was dressed by Dr. G. D. Jennings, and the lad was sent to a Pasadena hospital for treatment. A Nigg, a local blacksmith, who was riding the other bicycle, received minor injuries.

INTERMEDIATE CROP.

Winter pineapple casaba, a large melon that keeps in the market until Christmas, is a new intermediate crop that grows between the young orange trees on the ranch of Guy Adams, general manager of the United States mail on the Rock Island Railroad. Fifteen acres of his twenty-acre young orange grove have been planted to this fruit, and the new crop is shipping six carloads to Chicago, St. Louis and New York.

Ontario. FOURTH HUSBAND WANTS A LEGAL SEPARATION.

ONTARIO, Sept. 30.—Declaring that she has three living husbands besides himself and that he never before been in love with whom she is now alleged to be living in San Pedro. It is further stated that, prior to her marriage with Schyff, she was wedded to a man in Kansas City, from whom she has never secured a legal separation. Schyff, the second husband, is said to have secured a divorce since Damerow's marriage.

Damerow is a conductor on the local lines of the Pacific Electric. His father, Charles F. Damerow, has made this city his home for fifteen years or more and is a prominent local merchant. Damerow is represented in his suit by Attorney Archie D. Mitchell of this city.

HABIT WAS FIXED.

L. Duarte, barkeeper at a saloon at the corner of Main and Broadway, failed to give up his liquor-selling habit when he moved to Guasti at the eastern limits of this city, according to the charge against him here today, and he was arrested last evening by local officers, who held a warrant sworn to by the mother of two minor boys to whom it is alleged he sold beer.

Reception to Bishop Hughes Proves His Popularity.

Cage Sells Submarine Plant to Potash Concern.

LONG BEACH, Sept. 30.—The annual conference of the Southern California Methodists will begin tomorrow morning, and indications this evening were that when the conference opens practically every member of the conference will answer roll call. The advance guard arrived today, including Bishop Edwin Hughes, who is to preside over the week's deliberations, and all are quartered at Hotel Virginia, where tonight the local Methodists tendered a reception to Bishop Hughes. The lobby and salons were well filled early and the green accorded the bishop attended to his duties. The Municipal Band gave a concert in front of the hotel from 7 to 7:30. At 8 o'clock the crowd was called to order by Rev. C. H. Jones, pastor of the local Methodist church. Rev. George D. Kalkreuth for other denunciations, and W. H. Wallace for the lady, to which response was made on behalf of the conference by Rev. A. Healy, D.D., of U.S.C.

Following a tender solo by Prof. Alexander Hyer, Bishop Hughes delivered an address on the subject of "Personal Evangelism." Tomorrow morning at 8 a.m. there will be a session of the conference. The morning will be devoted to business, and at 10 o'clock the conference will open with a prayer by the bishop. The morning will be devoted to business, and at 10 o'clock the conference will open with a prayer by the bishop.

It is expected that there will be 250 delegates respond to roll call, and as many of them bring their families, the population of Long Beach this week is swelled at least 1200.

NEW FACTOR.

A new factor in municipal politics appeared today in the person of Louis Wheaton of the independent candidacy for Mayor, regardless of what the fusion or charter party might have to say to the contrary. Wheaton is a reformer of alleged municipal delinquencies of the present administration, comes out with a platform which he has presented in a series of lectures at the board of home missions, and the evening there will be an evangelistic service conducted by Dr. Healy.

SHIP PLANT SOLD.

The American Potash people today closed a deal with John M. Cage, in which they purchase portions of the machinery used in building the machine mode, which is the inventor, and the lease on the factory ground will be allowed to lapse to the American Potash people, who need a plant," said Cage today, "and when we get ready to build regular tin-sized craft we will have to have a large amount of machinery, and for the present we can get along with the large beside which the submarine was stationed. The lease was owned by me personally and the lease was in my own name."

NEWS BRIEFS.

The financial report of the public market for October 1st shows a rent has been charged shows receipts of $60 and expense, including the salary of market master, $52.50, leaving a profit of $7.50. So far the market has demonstrated its success and has been beneficial in many ways in cheapening the living cost.

A fire of unknown origin today destroyed a combination frame business and apartment block on East Seventeenth street, causing a loss of $10,000. The blaze broke out in the rear of a grocery store and spread rapidly, the occupants of the rooming-house escaping with difficulty with the loss of a few personal belongings. J. H. Hart, owner of the building, thinks the fire started from a defective gas connection in the rear of the building, which runs over the building.

The rain in postoffice receipts for the month of September is one of the largest percentages ever made over a preceding month. Receipts were $7233.79, as against $5400.26, the same month last year, an increase of 33 per cent.

The police have been asked to locate Fred Capp, aged 54, who has been missing since Sunday. Capp has been drinking pure alcohol the past two or three days and when last seen was despondent and threatened suicide.

CARPENTERIA.

CARPENTERIA, Sept. 30.—Walnuts are proving to have been damaged much less by the recent bad weather than was at first feared. It was thought the nuts would not hold on account of their burned condition, but they are opening quite satisfactorily, and growers anticipate an average crop.

A concrete dam sixteen feet high and thirty-five feet wide has been constructed by the Government Irrigation Company in the canyon. The dam is down to bedrock to catch the underflow and the stream of the canyon is considerably strengthened by the dam.

The new union grammar and high school will be formally opened October 18. A committee has been appointed to have charge of the ceremony, and athletic events will be arranged for the afternoon. The grounds are to be parked according to plans of Otto Nieldenier of Modesto, a landscape architect of Modesto.

RECEIVED UNDER BONDS.

Ontario Man Arrested for Petty Theft Finds Friends Who Believe the Charges Are Unfounded.

ONTARIO, Sept. 30.—Fred Nevins, arrested on a charge of burglarizing the Favorite Cafe, No. 138 North Euclid avenue, at a late hour last night, is today at liberty under $1000 bond, and the date for his preliminary hearing has not been set.

L. Dixon, one of the proprietors of the cafe, charges that Nevins, who is now in the city, stole something over $5 from the cash register. Dixon charges that Nevins has been missing cash for several weeks and suspects Nevins, who was formerly employed in the establishment as cook.

Nevins, who has made this city his home for more than eight years, has been charged with "trouble and up" by his enemies. His friends quickly furnished bond following his arraignment before Judge J. R. Pollock.

Damerow met the woman, who before her marriage with him went under the name of Miss Mary Moberly, at San Bernardino, where she then made her home. Six weeks after the marriage the groom discovered that his bride had another husband living from whom she had never obtained a divorce—John Schyff of San Bernardino.

Corona Fire.

CORONA, Sept. 30.—A serious conflagration was prevented this afternoon only by the persistent efforts of the fire department, when fire broke out in a large barn owned by E. A. Newton and owned by the B. N. Tucker Truck and Transfer Company. The barn was located on Washburn avenue, between Fourth and Fifth streets, and the wrong wind that was blowing from the west caused the fire to spread and partially destroyed the lumber yard of the Corona Lumber Company, of which A. J. Ware is manager. The origin of the fire is unknown, and the only clue that the officers have to work on is the fact that an explosion occurred in the barn and flames were scattered all over the building and it was a burning mass by the time the company arrived on the scene. Several streams of water were soon playing on the fire and after a four hours' fight the fire was under control. The loss to the lumber company amounted to about $2000, while Mr. Tucker's loss amounted to about $1500, with no insurance, except $500 that the lumber company carried.

SOUTH PASADENA, Sept. 30.—Fifteen-minute service to Los Angeles on the Short Line from 6 o'clock in the evening until 11:45, is now in effect, the new fall and winter time tables of the Pacific Electric having been put in operation Saturday.

This is a marked improvement over transportation facilities formerly enjoyed between this city and Los Angeles, as Short Line cars ran only every half hour from 7 o'clock, under the old schedule. There are practically no other important changes in the service. The improved even in service will be a great convenience to tourists and others who wish to go to Los Angeles at night.

Further betterment of transportation facilities for this city has been promised by President Phil Shoup of the Pacific Electric, immediately on the completion of the elevated track system from the Sixth and Main street station to San Pedro street and north on San Pedro to Aliso, where the interurban cars on the Southern California Railway, instead of running on Main street, which will do much to cut down the time between the two cities.

NEWS BRIEFS.

The opening of the club year of the Women's Improvement Association will take place tomorrow in its new clubhouse with the president's reception, at which members only are invited. The executive board, including Mrs. Frank Stephens, Mrs. Jonathan S. Dodge, Mrs. Frank C. Delano, Mrs. Edward Rust, Mrs. George Alford Miller, Mrs. Leo Longley, Mrs. Cornelia Gates and Mrs. E. L. B. Godfrey, will be in the receiving line, and they will be assisted by the chairman of all committees and the past presidents. Pouring tea will be Mrs. E. E. Washburn and Mrs. Franklin Miller. An orchestra will furnish delightful music to the accompaniment of formal conversation, and about 250 guests are expected.

Facts and figures were the arguments used in support of the bond issue at the Lincoln Park school, under the Chamber of Commerce. Seward C. Simons spoke of the benefits to be derived from the proposed improvements and gave figures to show that a bond issue would be the quickest and most economical way to obtain them. He said the bonds should be voted whether we joined Los Angeles or not, because in any case we would have to pay for them.

PUTS HIS WITS TO WORK.

Whittier Mail Clerk Solves the Problem of Carrying for Increased Business.

WHITTIER, Sept. 30.—The fellow who said "necessity was the mother of invention" most likely never heard of the parcel post, but he was right about it, and the parcel post has brought out an invention here in the shape of a two-wheel motorcycle trailer for carrying parcels.

A Whittier postman, Will Braught, is the man who worked out the plan and made the new delivery car in his spare moments. And now he glides through Whittier streets on his motor, putting the annex with as much as 25 pounds of mail matter in it. The car uses a pair of old bike wheels, has a unique spring arrangement, and is a detachable or attachable instantly. A screen cover prevents any parcels from spilling out and a canvas cover is used for inclement weather. The outfit has just been put into operation, but so far is highly successful.

Postal authorities everywhere are up against a hard proposition on account of the vastly increased delivery necessitated by the inauguration of the parcel post. Postmaster Baldwin of Whittier believes that this new trailer for the motorcycle has solved the problem here and he will report the workings of the scheme to the department at Washington.

COVINA BICYCLIST TURNS CORNER in a Hurry and the Result Is in Hospital Day-Long.

COVINA, Sept. 30.—Two riders on bicycles dodging around an oil wagon, crashed together this afternoon, and the result was a hospital day-long for Wilbur Nye, son of W. P. Nye of Rowland avenue, received a severe injury to his face. The upper jawbone, where it forms an orbit for the eye, was crushed in. The wound was dressed by Dr. G. D. Jennings, and the lad was sent to a Pasadena hospital for treatment. A Nigg, a local blacksmith, who was riding the other bicycle, received minor injuries.

INTERMEDIATE CROP.

Winter pineapple casaba, a large melon that keeps in the market until Christmas, is a new intermediate crop that grows between the young orange trees on the ranch of Guy Adams, general manager of the United States mail on the Rock Island Railroad. Fifteen acres of his twenty-acre young orange grove have been planted to this fruit, and the new crop is shipping six carloads to Chicago, St. Louis and New York.

Ontario. FOURTH HUSBAND WANTS A LEGAL SEPARATION.

ONTARIO, Sept. 30.—Declaring that she has three living husbands besides himself and that he never before been in love with whom she is now alleged to be living in San Pedro. It is further stated that, prior to her marriage with Schyff, she was wedded to a man in Kansas City, from whom she has never secured a legal separation. Schyff, the second husband, is said to have secured a divorce since Damerow's marriage.

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) Sept. 27.—It is said that Prescott soon will have a branch of the Y.M.C.A. The president of the Prescott Chamber of Commerce has received a letter from a Hugo Richards offering $50,000 toward the construction of a Y.M.C.A. building and $25,000 more to start with. The offer was made by Richards, who is a well-known philanthropist and a resident of Prescott. The only condition that Prescott shall raise $45,000 in a year, for the completion of the building. The offer was voluntary and unsolicited, prompted by a desire to benefit the city where the donor many years has been resident and a feeling that the city needs such an institution. Hugo Richards, a member of this section and one of the foremost bankers of Arizona, died a few months ago. The offer is now considered by a committee of Chamber of Commerce, surveying parties are at work on a division into farm units of the lands of the Arizona Land and Irrigation Company. One difficulty of the project now being smoothed out is a part of the city's sewer farm. Granite Creek is to be flooded by company's principal dam. It is probable that the corporation will be asked a lease of the property at a nominal consideration.

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Sept. 29.—October 1 in Arizona will become effective a law limiting the number of saloons in unincorporated settlements to one for each 100 votes listed to the precinct upon the county Great Register. The law will not affect saloons now in existence. It was supported in the last Legislature by both the prohibition and liquor interests, who believed they secured benefit. Especially affected will be such towns as Miami, where incorporation heretofore has been blocked largely by the liquor dealers, who seemed to fear the result of more intimate legal control.

(Special Correspondence of The Times.)

Application has been made for free text books to the city school superintendent by private and sectarian schools and has been refused. At Tucson a similar condition has been met by the Knights of Columbus, who have agreed to supply their parochial school with books at the expense of the lodge.

A number of farmers under the Salt River irrigation project are protesting against the management of the water supply and have demanded the fullest publicity of all operations in the valley of the Reclamation Service and of the Water Users' Association. It has been suggested also that statement of the liabilities and debts of all water users be attached to a statement lately prepared of their assets.

SOIL YIELDS MILLIONS.

The small grain crop of the Salt River Valley this season has been estimated as having a value of over $1,000,000. Alfalfa, the largest single item of agricultural assets, amounting in value to nearly $2,000,000. The barley crop this year was especially heavy, about 25,000,000 pounds, though the yield as the principal crop crop, with about the same yield as barley, though sold at a higher price.

Cotton picking will soon begin in the Salt River Valley, where 3500 acres of Egyptian cotton now are ripening, unimpaired with any other variety. The yield is much heavier than last year and will average over a bale to the acre. Picking will largely be done by Indian labor. Gins are being built in Phoenix and Mesa for handling the staple. The local plant will be a large one, with facilities for pressing oil and for making cotton seed meal. Two co-operative companies of growers have been formed to market the crop.

The bee industry of the valley this year will return the bee men about $100,000, from the sale of thirty-five million bees, respectively, and from the incidental yield of beeswax. Practically all the crop is shipped East to confectionery users.

In a quarter in the southern part of the city, twelve wagonloads of stolen material were found and removed. The material was found in a large orange ranch owned by a man named Douglas. The material had been stolen from the Southern Pacific office (ill he washed the city prison, most of the material had been stolen from the railroad yards.

MORE GOOD ROADS.

The Supervisors of Maricopa county, in a campaign for improvement of the roads and are gathering facts and figures to show that the economy of the county is a matter of importance. From Yuma county returns have been received that $100,000 road bond issue has been passed by the voters. The issue will assure completion of the road up the Gila River to the Arizona National Forest, the end of the proposed Colorado River bridge.

The new State bridge across Salt River at Tempe has been completed by the State Engineer's forces and has been opened for traffic, though its western approaches still are incomplete. A scenic country road now is under construction to the bridge.

The bridge, built by convict labor, cost $140,000. It was designed by J. J. Grand, late State Engineer, and is a beautiful structure, with much ornamentation and a concrete approach on each side. It is 1400 feet and it is remarkable in the Southwest through the fact that every pier rests upon bedrock.

The Phoenix baseball team now carries the southwestern pennant, having won three games in a five-game series with the strong El Paso team, concluding game, yesterday, went to Phoenix by a score of 2 to 1.

BUDGET OF NEWS.

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Sept. 29.—This city is to have a children's playground, a project forwarded by the city of the Warren District Commercial Club and now in the hands of a special committee. Ground has been secured near the Central School and the plot is to be equipped with the latest apparatus, selected by the members of the local Y.M.C.A. at a cost of $1000.

In order to prevent recurrence of the accidents on the Warren electric line, a close study the system has been made by the City Council and the past fortnight. As a result, the city has been asked to purchase the street car company. All the requirements. They include changes in the braking system, the installation of a signaling system, preliminary training of men and a prohibition of front-end riding.

The Douglas City Council has dismissed City Attorney J. F. Ross following his refusal to resign, and has appointed D. A. Richardson as his successor. The trouble arose over an error on the part of the former attorney in permitting the Council to make an illegal tax levy. It is believed that a new levy may be made and that the fall tax collection period will be a busy one.

D. D. McCarty, a Douglas pawnbroker, has been released after a preliminary examination on a charge of murder in the shooting and killing of Murietta. The evidence against McCarty had been good cause to fear for his safety.

PLENTY OF COAL.

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 26.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Turned back by wireless from the entrance to San Francisco Bay after a long voyage around South America, the British steamer Harpatha, with 1500 tons of coal for the Pacific fleet, arrived in port this morning, sixty-six days out from Baltimore. This makes a total of 15,000 tons of navy coal at the coaling dock here.

It is not the opera, however, which will give Murdock his first public recognition, but a play of one act which will be placed on the Orpheum circuit in all probability by the exquisite Petrova in whose hands it will find its way on her arrival from Europe during this month. It is called "The Odalisque" and is one of the strongest and most sensational depictions of a Turkish harem ever attempted by the stage. The atmosphere, the plot and the lines are as unusual that those who have read it have been extravagant in their appreciation and there is no doubt that the fame of the young author might rest secure on this piece alone.

A second play called "A Question of Clothes," is also full of the right fire and is certain to get over.

JACK KILLILAY LOSES A HARD LUCK CONTEST.

Rohrer and Leard Make Errors, Starting the Trouble, and Then Korea and Rodgers Come Through With the Hits that Sew Up the Game—Seitz Steals Home, but Guthrie Calls Him Out.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Sept. 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Under heavy clouds and before 1500 chilled spectators, the Portland Coast-ers staged a thrilling ninth-inning rally today and won the opening game of the series from Oakland. The score was 3 to 2.

The game was a superb pitching duel between Harry Krause of Portland and Jack Killilay of the Oaks, in which poor support caused all the trouble.

Up to the ninth Killilay had all the edge, having allowed but two safe hits. Then, with the score 2 to 0, in his favor, the Oaks buckled and collapsed. Errors by Rohrer and Leard started the rally. Killilay threw a ball to the arm, hitting the base with nobody out. Rohrer's offense consisted in miffing Krause's third strike and wretching first trying to steal for it.

KOREA DOES IT.
At this psychological juncture Korea and Rodgers, unsung their bludgeons and batted out victory.

Korea poked a screaming liner through second, scoring two runs, and with a man on third, Rodgers responded with a line drive over short.

Meanwhile, 1500 fans were screaming themselves hoarse. It was one of the good old-fashioned rallies that you talk about weeks afterwards—one made to order for the loquacious manufacturers. While the Beavers scored their three runs before one man was retired in the ninth, a decision at the plate by Umpire Guthrie helped run the Beaver flag to the top perch, signaling victory.

GUTHRIE ORDINATE.
He's not and all there's to it," declared Guthrie. He was, whether or not, Portland fans quietly forgot the incident. Portland would.

gery anything. When "Spec" takes to knocking the ball around the plate it is generally taken to mean that the pitcher is feeling feeble, but in this case the symptom was misleading. "Spec" himself admitted that he was totally unable to account for the incident.

Howard paved the way for the first marker when he opened the seventh with a triple out where Dick Haywood believed that it would be. After the catch, Haywood succumbed on a grounder to Harkness. Harkness then filed the sacks again by passing over Harkness. He worked on Boles until the count stood three balls and two strikes. "Spec" then gave Boles one to fish for, but the latter refused. Finney called it "a-t-t-t-t-t-t-t-t-t" and there was considerable waiting on the part of Mr. Boles.

BOSTON COMES BACK AND BEATS THE YANKS TWICE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Boston turned the tables on New York today and won both games of a double-header. The first game was decided 3 to 2 and the second 3 to 0. In the opener Leonard held New York to seven scattered hits. In the second game, Mosley held the home team to two singles. The game was called in the eighth because of darkness.
